AFL Delegates Cheer Address By Eisenhower

Ike Promises To Seek Revision Of Taft-Hartley Act

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower promised Friday to seek revision of "union busting" provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

In an appearance before the American Federation of Labor convention which wound up its three-day swing through the West, Mr. Eisenhower told the delegates he was a friend of labor who regretted the failure to revise the Taft-Hartley law. He reminded the union members that he had promised to work for changes in the law in 1952 and he intended to keep that pledge.

"I respect and admire what organized labor has done for this country," he said.

Immediately after appearing at the AFL convention hall the President flew back to the summer White House at Denver.

The President's final appearance was before the 73rd annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, Mr. Eisenhower said just prior to going before the AFL that he did not expect too friendly a reception. The convention during the past five days had been openly critical of the administration on labor and foreign policy.

But the President's quiet humor and personal charm quickly melted away any open hostility and he drew the cheers and applause from 750 delegates and guests with his promise to revise the Taft-Hartley law.

Atomic Tests In Nevada Set For Early Next Year

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced Friday that it is preparing for a series of atomic tests at its Nevada proving grounds early next year.

The AEC said the tests probably will start about mid-February. It said the series "will conform generally with those previously conducted in Nevada, including participation and support by the Department of Defense and Federal Civil Defense Administration."

It said "public officials, stockmen, miners and others in southwestern Utah and southern Nevada" are being advised of the plans.

The new series presumably will involve more work with the "technical side of atomic warfare rather than strategic bombing."

Tests involving large-scale explosions, including hydrogen bomb "shots," usually are held in the Pacific proving grounds.

The United States announced in the United Nations last July that there would be no nuclear tests in the Pacific but set no date.

The AEC uses sites at Frenchman and Yucca Flat near Las Vegas, Nev., for testing smaller atomic weapons, such as the atomic artillery shell fired there in 1953.

The hazard from weapons detonated in Nevada is nowhere near as great as that from the big blasts in the Pacific, which have drawn some criticism.

To date, the AEC has set off 31 explosions in Nevada of one sort or another.

Python Swallows 4-Inch Mousetrap

TERRELL, Tex., Sept. 24 (AP)—A pet python named Susie swallowed a mousetrap Friday and her owners rushed her to Dr. R. G. Lewis, a veterinarian.

The mousetrap was believed to be empty. Dr. Lewis found a suspicious looking lump about half way down Susie's four-and-a-half foot body. She is six months old and weighs 13 pounds.

Dr. Lewis said that before operating on Susie, he will call on 200 officials in Fort Worth for advice.

Fort Worth zoo officials are currently without a python. The python, an 18-foot monster named Pete, broke out of his cage a week ago and hasn't been seen since.

Susie's owners are Glenn and Dale King.

Chiang's Envoy Predicts Attack By Red Chinese

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—Chinese Nationalist Ambassador Wellington Koo said today that Communist China probably will make a serious attempt this fall to seize 37 Nationalist-held islands close to the Red mainland for use as stepping stones to Formosa.

He said the test may come "at any time."

Commenting in an interview on Red Premier Chou En-lai's latest call yesterday for "liberation" of Formosa, Koo declared it should not be dismissed as mere propaganda. Chou's speech calling Formosa "a sacred territory" was broadcast by Peiping radio.

"It is something the Communists feel very strongly," Koo said.

"Just as the Nationalists feel equally strongly that they must return to the mainland."

Whether the Communists start an all-out assault on Formosa and the Pescadores "will depend a great deal on how much supplies Russia will give them in arms, aircraft, guns and ships," the veteran diplomat said, adding:

"However, the Communists very likely will make a serious attempt to take the offshore islands. They serve as stepping stones to Formosa and the Pescadores."

Koo said the Russians have been holding the Chinese Communist air force in check by controlling the allocation of jet fuel for the Red MIGs. When a MIG is sent up its flight has to be approved by a Russian military adviser, Koo said.

He said Nationalist authorities "doubt that the Russians want to go so far as to provoke conflict with the United States."

Koo returned recently from long consultations with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa and an inspection of Nationalist Quemoy and the Tachen islands.

"That is the front line now," he said. "Each side can see what the other is doing." The island lines are within virtually point blank artillery range of the mainland, with only a narrow stretch of water between.

For the Nationalists these offshore islands serve as observation posts and radar bases to detect Communist movements along the coast.

As for holding them, Koo said the islands are heavily garrisoned and "we are well prepared."

The American trained Nationalist troops there are equipped with standard American arms including flame throwers, he said, and "we feel fully confident of holding them."

"We feel we should be able to deal with the situation without calling on our American friends," he said. "Our policy is not to involve the United States."

"I feel we are strong enough so long as we continue to obtain supplies and logistic support."

Secretary of State Dulles has said that whatever U.S. logistic support is given to the exposed islands is up to the U.S. military commander to decide in the event of attack. President Eisenhower has declared the U.S. 7th Fleet would defend Formosa and the Pescadores.

Mendes-France has indicated he wants the rearmament controls spelled out in great detail.

The authoritative sources said West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has agreed with Britain and the United States that the Germans will accept all armament restrictions provided under the defense European army plan if there is no discrimination against Germany.

The sources said the United States realizes that Premier Pierre Mendes-France must carry back to Paris a plan that will be accepted by the French national assembly, but at the same time does not want the French to bog down with an over-detailed plan.

The sources said the major question now to be solved in negotiation with the French is what controls will France demand on German rearmament and how far can its allies go toward meeting them.

Dulles was said to feel along the lines expressed by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, NATO's supreme commander in Europe, who said two days ago that NATO as it stands offers effective controls on European armaments.

If Germany builds too many tanks, for example, NATO could simply cut off Germany's gasoline supply.

Bank Robbers Get $100,000 In New York

Daring Daylight Holdup Is Staged By Two Gunmen

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—Two early bird gunmen waited out the time mechanism of a bank vault today, then stole $100,000.

It took them nearly 30 minutes—with the enforced help of arriving employees—to open the double-combination vault. But they engineered the morning robbery of the Fullon Ave. drive-in branch of the County Trust Co. with extreme calmness. One of them even left the bank in the midst of the robbery to get twine to bind employees.

The bandits described themselves as "wanted men."

The pair threatened employees with a gun, tied up manager Edmund Tichenor and three of his tellers, but did not actually harm anyone.

The FBI joined police in a search for the bandits, both of them young and rather roughly dressed. A 13-state alarm was flashed for them.

It was the first bank robbery in the history of this Westchester county community of about 72,000 just north of New York City.

The two bandits were waiting when Tichenor arrived at the rear door of the bank at 7:30 a.m., half an hour before opening time.

"Do you know Fran Warren, the singer?" one of them asked the manager apparently feigning a conversation of no significance.

"No," Tichenor replied.

"Well, it doesn't make any difference," said the robber, whipping out a gun. "Get inside."

Tichenor knew only one of the dual combinations to the cash vault. The bandits forced him to turn his combination on the dial.

Then they bound him and settled down to wait for Mrs. Jean Beebe, a teller and the only one with the second combination.

She waited in about 10 minutes later and one of the robbers grabbed her collar, jerked her through the door and told her:

"We are wanted men. I have a sister and mother and don't want to hurt you. But I'll blow your brains out if you don't open the vault."

Mrs. Beebe released her combination on the vault. But there was still a wait of about 15 minutes before the mechanism automatically went into action to swing the vault open.

Meanwhile, two men tellers arrived for work and the bandits bound them up as they had Tichenor. (Continued On First Page)

Reds Are Barred From Membership By Steelworkers

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 24 (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers union amended its constitution Friday to bar Communists from its 1.2 million membership.

The constitutional change approved by delegates in the closing sessions of the USW's seventh biennial meeting made the steel union the first major CIO group to bar Communists from its ranks.

A previous USW policy had barred them only from holding office.

Delegates also adopted a resolution pledging support to "the progressive forces in both major parties." The middle-of-the-road wording of the measure was a sharp departure from strong criticism of the Eisenhower administration in delegates' speeches during the five-day convention.

However, Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Able left no doubt that the steelworkers will continue to support the Democrats, declaring that delegates should "appreciate the significance" of the November elections and "do the job we should have two years ago."

"The only way our gains are going to be protected is by taking more seriously this job of political action," he said.

The steelworkers chose to ignore Thursday's telegram from United Mine Workers boss John L. Lewis urging them to get out of the CIO and hinting that he would welcome them into the UMW. McDonald said before the telegram was read to the convention that it would be unwise for the USW to break away from the CIO because the steelworkers "are going to get something" for their $17 million investment in the parent organization.

NAACP attorney A. P. Tureaud Sr., of New Orleans recently denounced the school board's questioning of parents as "intimidation."

Shaw said the bar association canon of ethics makes it "a public duty" for all attorneys to bring to the attention of the ethics and grievances committee any violations of the "fomenting litigation" canon.

In a certain church, the pastor's wife chanced belatedly to recall that a certain meeting had not been publicized from the pulpit. She accordingly wrote a note to husband-pastor and handed it to an usher.

The pastor took the note and without scanning it in advance read: "The ladies of the W.M.S. will meet in special session in the church Tuesday at 7 p.m. Honey, fix your necktie it is crooked. Pull it a bit over with the left hand!"

"This town looks like it would be a good one in which to live if only the infernal cutting into the downtown paving and sidewalks would ever stop! Seems like for years it has been an unending process!" This remark was heard as a stranger regarded a huge pile of dirt and a vast expanse of mutilated paving and a hole that ran

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 —UP—
The Atomic Energy Commission announced Friday that it is preparing for a series of atomic tests at its Nevada proving grounds early next year.

The AEC said the tests probably will start about mid-February. It said the series "will conform generally with those previously conducted in Nevada, including participation and support by the Department of Defense and Federal Civil Defense Administration.

It said "public officials, stockmen, miners and others in southwestern Utah and southern Nevada" are being advised of the plans.

The new series presumably will involve more work with the "tactical side of atomic warfare rather than strategic bombing."

Tests involving large - scale explosions, including hydrogen bomb shots, usually are held in the Pacific proving grounds.

The United States announced in the United Nations last July that there would be more nuclear tests in the Pacific but set no date.

as great as that from the big blasts in the Pacific, which have drawn some criticism.

To date, the AEC has set off 31 explosions in Nevada of one sort or another.

Dr. Lewis said that before operat-

Chiang's Envoy Predicts Attack By Red Chinese

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Chinese Nationalist for use as stepping stones to Formosa.

U. S., Britain, Germany Agree On Arms Plan

LONDON, Sept. 24 —UP—
The United States, Britain and West Germany have reached agreement on "all essential details" of a European defense plan utilizing both the Brussels Pact and NATO, authoritative diplomatic sources said Friday night.

Secretary of State John Foster
Dulles is bringing to the secret nine-power conference here next week a plan that is "practically identical" with the plan worked out by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, it was said.

Dulles' plan has been cleared by the U.S. National Security Council and the Pentagon, the sources said. It lines up the United States in a common front with Britain and Germany in preparation for dickering with France at the conference.

The sources said the United States realizes that Premier Pierre Mendes-France must carry back to Paris a plan that will be accepted by the French national assembly, but at the same time does not want the French to bog down with an over-detailed plan.

The sources said the major question now to be solved in negotiation with the French is what controls will France demand on German rearmament and how far can its allies go toward meeting them.

Dulles was said to feel along the lines expressed by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, NATO's supreme commander in Europe, who said two days ago that NATO as it stands offers effective controls on European armaments. If Germany builds too many tanks, for example, NATO could simply cut off Germany's gasoline supply.

Mendes-France has indicated he wants the rearmament controls spelled out in great detail.

The authoritative sources said
West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has agreed with Britain and the United States that the Germans will accept all armament restrictions provided under the defense European army plan if there is no discrimination against

Legislative Group Starts Counter-Blows At NAACP

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 24 (AP) — Louisiana's joint legislative committee to maintain segregation today waged a counter attack against National Association for the Advancement of Colored People attorneys who attempted to register 39 Negroes at a white school here.

On the committee's recommendation, the East Baton Rouge school board asked the Louisiana Bar Association to determine whether attorneys Alex Pitcher and Johnny Jones violated a prohibition against "fomenting litigation or strife."

General counsel William Shaw of the legislative group said canon 28 of the bar association code of ethics restrains lawyers from drumming up business or promoting strife.

In its resolution, the school board called on the bar association's committee on professional ethics and grievances to make the probe.

Shaw said an attorney found in violation of canon 28 could be disbarred by the State Supreme Court on recommendation of the bar committee.

On Sept. 2, attorney Pitcher brought 39 Negro children to the Gilmer Wright elementary school in North Baton Rouge and attempted to register them. The principal of the white school turned them away.

The NAACP has not said whether legal action would be asked.

Members of the joint legislative committee met with the school board for more than an hour in executive session last night. In open session, the board adopted a resolution asking the bar association probe on the grounds that the Negro attorneys "had not previously obtained the consent and per-

He said the test may come "at any time."

Commenting in an interview on Red Premier Chou En-lai's latest call yesterday for "liberation" of Formosa, Koo declared it should not be dismissed as mere propaganda. Chou's speech calling Formosa "a sacred territory" was broadcast by Peiping radio.

"It is something the Communists feel very strongly," Koo said.
"Just as the Nationalists feel equally strongly that they must return to the mainland."

Whether the Communists start an all-out assault on Formosa and the Pescadores "will depend a great deal on how much supplies Russia will give them in arms, aircraft, guns and ships," the veteran diplomat said, adding:

"However, the Communists very likely will make a serious attempt to take the offshore islands. They serve as stepping stones to Formosa and the Pescadores."

Koo said the Russians have been holding the Chinese Communist air force in check by controlling the allocation of jet fuel for the Red MIGs. When a MIG is sent up its flight has to be approved by a Russian military adviser, Koo said.

He said Nationalist authorities "doubt that the Russians want to go so far as to provoke conflict with the United States."

Koo returned recently from long consultations with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa and an inspection of Nationalist Quemoy and the Tachen islands.

"That is the front line now," he said. "Each side can see what the other is doing." The island lines are within virtually point blank artillery range of the mainland, with only a narrow stretch of water between.

For the Nationalists these offshore islands serve as observation posts and radar bases to detect Communist movements along the coast.

As for holding them, Koo said the islands are heavily garrisoned and
"we are well prepared."

The American trained Nationalist troops there are equipped with standard American arms including flame throwers, he said, and "we feel fully confident of holding them."

"We feel we should be able to deal with the situation without calling on our American friends," he said. "Our policy is not to involve the United States."

"I feel we are strong enough so long as we continue to obtain supplies and logistic support."

Secretary of State Dulles has said that whatever U.S. logistic support is given to the exposed islands is up to the U.S. military commander to decide in the event of attack. President Eisenhower has declared the U.S. 7th Fleet would defend Formosa and the Pescadores.

Reds Are Barred From Membership By Steelworkers

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 24
—UP—The CIO United Steelworkers union amended its constitution Friday to bar Communists from its 1.2 million membership.

The constitutional change approved by delegates in the closing sessions of the USW's seventh biennial meeting made the steel union the first major CIO group to bar Communists from its ranks.
A previous USW policy had barred them only from holding office.

Delegates also adopted a resolution pledging support to "the progressive forces in both major parties." The middle-of-the-road wording of the measure was a sharp departure from strong criticism of the Eisenhower administration in delegates' speeches during the five-day convention.

However, Secretary-Treasurer I.
W. Able left no doubt that the steelworkers will continue to support the Democrats, declaring that delegates should "appreciate the significance" of the November elections and "do the job we should have two years ago."

"The only way our gains are going to be protected is by taking more seriously this job of political action," he said.

The steelworkers chose to ignore Thursday's telegram from United Mine Workers boss John L. Lewis urging them to get out of the CIO and hinting that he would welcome them into the UMW. McDonald said before the telegram was read to the convention that it would be unwise for the USW to break away from the CIO because the steelworkers "are going to get something" for their $17 million investment in the parent organization.

Believe it or not, but the other day down in Palm Beach, Fla., Merry Christmas was sued! In this case action for divorce was sought in circuit court. Mrs. Phyllis Christmas has filed the suit against Merry Lawrence Christmas, charging he took her auto to go downtown a year ago, and has never returned. She alleges in the action that Merry Christmas is now somewhere in Arkansas.

In a certain church, the pastor's wife chanced belatedly to recall that a certain meeting had not been publicized from the pulpit.
She accordingly wrote a note to husband-pastor and handed it to an usher.

The pastor took the note and without scanning it in advance read: "The ladies of the W.M.S. will meet in special session in the church Tuesday at 7 p.m. Honey, fix your necktie it is crooked Pull it a bit over with the left hand!"

"This town looks like it would be a good one in which to live if only the internal cutting into the downtown paving and sidewalks would ever stop! Seems like for years it has been an unending

Bank Robbers Get $100,000 In New York

Daring Daylight
Holdup Is Staged
By Two Gunmen

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP) — Two early bird gunmen waited out the time mechanism of a bank vault today, then stole $100,- 000.

It took them nearly 30 minutes—with the enforced help of arriving employees—to open the double-combination vault. But they engineered the morning robbery of the Fulton Ave. drive-in branch of the County Trust Co. with extreme calmness.
One of them even left the bank in the midst of the robbery to get twine to bind employees.

The bandits described themselves as "wanted men."

The pair threatened employees with a gun, tied up manager Edmund Tichenor and three of his tellers, but did not actually harm anyone.

The FBI joined police in a search for the bandits, both of them young and rather roughly dressed. A 13-state alarm was flashed for them.

It was the first bank robbery in the history of this Westchester county community of about 72,000 just north of New York City.

The two bandits were waiting when Tichenor arrived at the rear door of the bank at 7:30 a.m.—
half an hour before opening time.

"Do you know Fran Warren, the singer?" one of them asked the manager apparently feigning a conversation of no significance.

"No," Tichenor replied.

"Well, it doesn't make any difference," said the robber, whipping out a gun. "Get inside."

Tichenor knew only one of the dual combinations to the cash vault. The bandits forced him to turn his combination on the dials.

Then they bound him and settled down to wait for Mrs. Jean Beebe, a teller and the only one with the second combination.

She walked in about 10 minutes later and one of the robbers grabbed her collar, jerked her through the door and told her:

"We are wanted men. I have a sister and mother and don't want to hurt you. But I'll blow your brains out if you don't open the vault."

Mrs. Beebe released her combination on the vault. But there was still a wait of about 15 minutes before the mechanism automatically went into action to swing the vault open.

Meanwhile, two men tellers arrived for work and the bandits bound them up as they had Tich-

Drouth Loss In 3 States Is Set At $500 Million

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24 (AP) —
The 1954 drouth resulted in agricultural losses totaling about $500 million in Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana, the Farm Credit Administration said today.

J. Fred Hurst, director of information for the association, said the greatest losses were in corn, cotton, hay and pastures.

Hurst said the estimated cotton production in the three states is 1,453,000 bales below last year's harvest and a drop in cotton income of $254,275,000.

The announcement said Mississippi took the worst beating with the states cotton crop $29,000 bales under last year's production. At current prices, the drop represents a loss of $144,375,000. And the October crop report is expected to show a further decline, the announcement said.

Louisiana's corn crop reportedly is 1,198,000 bushels above the 1953 harvest, but over four million bushels below the 1943-52 ten-year average.

This year's smaller corn crop in the three states indicates a loss of $72,000,000.

Production of hay is down 235,000 tons, a loss of $8,225,000 at current market prices, the announcement said.

Planes Grounded By Smog Blanket

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24 (AP)—One of the worst smog attacks of the year had citizens coughing and wiping their eyes today and civic officials said some workers felt so bad they went home.

At Los Angeles International Airport no planes were allowed to land from midnight until 11 a.m., although a few, including one returning President Eisenhower to Denver after his speech here, took off during the morning.

Airport officials said they believed smog contributed as much as fog to the poor visibility.

Vote On M'Carthy Delayed To Nov. 8

Senate Action Postponed Till After Election

120-Page Report
Of Group Hearing
Charges Finished

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24
—UP—Senate leaders agreed Friday to postpone a vote on politically-explosive censure charges against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy until Nov. 8—six days after the crucial congressional elections.

Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland announced he "recommended" the delay so the vote could "take place in an atmosphere free from pre-election tensions." He said Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson agreed to the procedure.

Knowland's announcement came shortly after the six-man Senate committee studying misconduct charges against McCarthy informed him that it had "unanimously" agreed on a report. The 120-page report will be made public Monday.

Committee chairman Arthur V.
Watkins (R-Utah) told reporters the report should give the Senate a basis for a straight "up or down" vote on whether McCarthy should be censured. Another committee member said it "evaluates" each of five general charges against the Wisconsin Republican.

McCarthy had no immediate comment. He has been under a doctor's care at his home here suffering from a chronic sinus condition which forced him to cancel speeches at Omaha, Neb., and Naperville, Ill.

Watkins described the committee's inquiry as a "very unpleasant task." He said the charges "concern a senator for whom we all have considerable affection."
Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.), a committee member, said there was "no suggestion of partisanship" during the inquiry.

Since the committee had finished its report, Knowland would have had time to recall the senate next week — as he earlier indicated he intended to do. But the GOP leader, who had been subject to mounting political pressure, said he wanted to give senators ample time to study the report.

Immediate senatorial reaction to the Nov. 8 recall was mixed.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) said every Democratic senator he had talked to was "ready to act now."
He added that "the responsibility for postponement therefore, is clearly fixed."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin (D-S.C.), a member of the censure committee, said he had hoped the Senate would be called back immediately.
But he said he can understand why Knowland and Johnson "prob-

LAHORE, Pakistan, Sept. 24 (AP) — Cloudbursts that broke a drouth

Russia Votes To Put Ike's Atom Plan Before UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 24—UP—Russia joined in a unanimous vote Friday to put President Eisenhower's "atoms for peace" plan on the United Nations agenda but indicated it would demand a ban on nuclear weapons before taking part in the program.

Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky said Russia is "prepared to continue conversations" with the United States on the project. He added, however, that all nuclear weapons must be outlawed as a pre-condition.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, revealing details of the Eisenhower plan before the General Assembly Thursday, also disclosed that Russia had delivered a note in Moscow Wednesday "affirming its readiness to talk further."

"But the note still gave no indication that the USSR had receded from its negative position," Dulles said.

Vishinsky made his statement before the 15-nation steering committee which met before Friday's General Assembly session. The committee action put on the UN program an American proposal under which plans of the United States and seven allies for a peace-time atomic pool could be discussed.

"The task is not to confine ourselves only to proposals for peaceful uses of atomic energy but also to reach agreement on the prohibition of atomic weapons," Vishinsky said.

He then said he had no opposition to putting the item on the work sheet and asked that the decision be unanimous "so that our position is clear."

"We make it quite clear," Vishinsky said, "we declare our readiness to continue talks. Again, I must say, we are prepared to continue conversations."

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who had expressed regret that the Kremlin refused to participate in the President's plan, spoke after Vishinsky.

"No one would be happier than the United States to find that the Soviet Union is willing to cooperate in this great plan," Lodge said. "But let us not forget the proverb: 'Actions speak louder than words.'"

for many yards along the important thoroughfare.

Monroe feels entitled to a direct airline service from here to Washington, D. C., and New York without change of seat. To this end, Louis D. Smith, local attorney, has just appeared before the Civil Aeronautics board and made an earnest plea for the improved service.

He declared that Monroe is today a trade center for 350,000 to 400,000 people. He said: "We know full well we won't get deluxe one stop DC 7 service between Monroe and the northeast, but we do feel we should get direct, one carrier service."

He got in a plug for the city when he said: "Monroe through sentimental reasons feels a deep interest in Delta Airlines and always will regard the lines keenly, for Delta originated here, and here were the first home offices of the company. Some of the leading stockholders and officers were from here at the outset such as the late C. E. Faulk, first president, and today Travis Oliver, highly esteemed local banker, is the treasurer of the system." We hope he gets the desired results and so do all Monroians.

Monroe students in years past in many cases pursued night courses, university nature, here during the fall, winter and spring months when L. S. U. was brought to their doors. One of the leading extension instructors here and in this area was Dr. John Marshall Nason, who is at this time retiring. He was a capable and untiring instructor and students of past years will regret that he is relinquishing duties that were so near to his heart.

The recent death of Mrs. Bert Williams, wife of retired dentist Dr. B. G. Williams, Sr., occasioned old residents of Monroe to recall a page of former local history.

Mrs. Williams was the former Miss Louise Bracey. Local historians familiar with the Bracey family, and that of the founding of St. Francis sanitarium, recall that on or about 1912, the Bracey family resided in a residence on the site of today's big hospital.

It was there that the future Mrs. Williams was born. The property at Jackson and Wood streets was for sale and Catholic Father Enaut decided to purchase it. He confessed he had no money and had never in his life ever owned any real estate but he is reported to have borrowed $3,000, the full purchase price of the site, from Roland Filhiol, and a little later in 1913, the original St. Francis sanitarium was erected.

ably yielded to the entreaties of senators who wanted all the time they could get for election campaigning.

Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kans.) another committee member, gasped with surprise when told of Knowland's announcement. But then he told reporters it was "rather what I expected" and said he considered it "a very good decision."

Committee chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) said the 60,000-word report will include discussions and "conclusions" on the general charges against McCarthy. It also is expected to discuss proposed new rules governing congressional investigations.

Watkins said the report does not require formal signing, and at least one committee member, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) gave his approval before the 120-page document was in its final form.

Johnson left about mid-day for Colorado where he will campaign for governor. At that time, however, a committee member reported that the group had reached "unanimous agreement on the main features" of the case.

The Colorado highway department is reported able to predict within eight hours the time of mountain avalanches in that state.

Nationalists Hit Chinese Coast In Bombing Forays

TAIPEI, Sept. 24 —UP— Hundreds of Chinese Nationalist fighter-bombers flew through the fringes of a typhoon Friday and sank or damaged 34 Communist boats along the China coast, government sources reported.

The day-long raid blasted Red artillery positions while Nationalist and Communist guns duelled across the waters separating the two forces. Nationalists reported "extremely heavy" anti-aircraft fire, bolstering reports the Reds had brought in reinforcements to Amoy.

The Nationalist Navy fired thousands of shells into the Communist positions along the coast despite a typhoon warning, hoping to wreak as much damage as possible before the coming storm drives them to port.

There were reports here that Communist Chinese broadcasts from Shanghai had warned the population of Formosa that bombing attacks against Chiang Kai-shek's island bastion would begin Sept. 28, but there was no official confirmation of the broadcasts. The traditional birthday of Confucius is Sept. 28.

Nationalist fighter-bombers flew through driving rains Friday to hit the Communist positions on the southeast China coast ahead of a typhoon with 70-mile-an-hour winds expected to hit the area soon.

Despite Friday's heavy air and sea bombardments and strikes by 100 Nationalist planes Thursday, the Communists kept up their shelling of Quemoy, some 14 miles from Amoy. A spokesman said "hundreds" of Red shells fell on Quemoy Friday.

Nationalist troops on Quemoy were put on the alert to repel Communist sneak raids under cover of rain and fog.

enor and Mrs. Beebe. The men were placed on the floor, Mrs. Beebe on a couch. All were assured they wouldn't be hurt if they kept quiet.

With the vault finally open, the bandits used adding machine covers as bags into which they scooped cash. Then they fled, apparently in a waiting automobile. The money was on hand in the bank, for payroll.

They had scarcely left when Tichenor managed to roll over to a floor button with which he sounded an alarm to police headquarters.

Patrolman John Bradley rushed for his car at the alarm and headed for the bank. His car and another collided a few blocks away and he was taken to a hospital.

One of the robbers was described as about 30, short and stocky, wearing a green "Eisenhower" jacket and a wide-brimmed brown felt hat.

AFL Delegates

Following Mr. Eisenhower's 18-minute talk, praised the President's appearance before the convention because, he said, it indicated the President recognized "the right of free men to differ on any issue."

Tension Relaxed

The President relaxed any obvious tension of AFL leaders when he shook hands with Meany and joked:

"Well, I'm glad to see we're still speaking."

The federation gave the President a standing ovation lasting 24 seconds and then settled back silently to await his remarks. Mr. Eisenhower, with a smile, said: "I understand that by tradition you're completely and absolutely non-political. Well, I can't say what a relief it is to address a non-political audience."

A roar of laughter followed and put the convention in a more relaxed mood as the President went on to promise the federation that he would study "thoroughly and sympathetically" its differences with the administration. Mr. Eisenhower won quick agreement from his listeners and loud applause when he said "we both do agree on fighting communism."

3 Firemen

fanned by high winds, forced the evacuation of more than 300 persons and burned six homes and an estimated 1,200 acres. The fire was described as one of the worst in Los Angeles County history.

More than 500 men were on the swirling fire line, along a 16-mile front. Southern Pacific trains were stopped at Chatsworth as flames crackled over the right-of-way.

A third blaze menaced the mountain town of Frazier Park, nearly 80 miles north of Los Angeles, for the third time in two days. Forest service specialists were aiding in the fight at Chatsworth and Frazier Park.

Another fire in the San Ysidro Mountains east of Warner Hot Springs in San Diego County has burned 6,000 acres. And a new fire broke out this afternoon at Agoura, 18 miles west of there, and spread rapidly.

High winds and low humidity were hindering the fire fighting.

Newly Organized Explorers Club Holds First Meet

Monroe's newly-formed Explorers Club launched its first meeting last night when Robert Davis, noted photographer, lecturer and adventurer, told a packed terrace at the Frances Hotel about "Iceland, Capital of the North."

Before Davis' film and commentary was presented, the members of the club were feted with a typical meal that would be served in Iceland—a unique part of the nation's regular program. A typical meal from the country about which the lecture concerns is always served at such functions.

In addition, the lecturer always shows a film with commentary—a film made by the lecturer himself.

Last night, George Turner, of Little Rock, Ark., founder of the Explorers Club movement which is rapidly spreading from its point of origin in his own state, was present at the meeting. Brig. Gen. George Trousdale acted as Master of Ceremonies. He and Turner are old friends, having been schoolmates at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

It has been announced that membership is still open in the organi-

Turner originated the unique luncheon club soon after he moved his home to Arkansas and Gov. Cherry commissioned him an "Arkansas Traveler." In Arkansas this commission instructs a holder to serve as an ambassador of good will to other areas of the U. S., or elsewhere, wherever he might travel.

But instead of Turner taking the message of Arkansas to the world, he got the idea of bringing the world's message to Arkansas. He organized 16 Explorers Clubs in that state in 12 months, and is now spreading to other regions.

The speaker of last night has been booked for two lecture per-

Wetback Airlift Gets Under Way

M'ALLEN, Tex., Sept. 24 —UP— The border patrol plans to fly at least one plane load of wetbacks daily from the Midwest to Brownsville, it was announced Friday.

But even then, said Gen. Frank H. Partridge, assistant to the U.S. Immigration commissioner, it will take six months to clear the Midwest of the illegal Mexican aliens.

About 50 wetbacks are carried in each plane. From Brownsville, they are deported by boat from Port Isabel, Tex., to Veracruz, Mexico.

More than 120,000 illegal aliens left the lower Rio Grande Valley in July and August, the patrol reported. Some were deported; others left voluntarily.

Partridge said the aliens in the Midwest are spread over a much larger area and have a wider variety of jobs, mostly industrial. Those in the Valley are looking for farm jobs almost exclusively, he said.

The aliens in the Midwest are more prosperous and some have cars, he added. These are permitted to drive back to Mexico.

Three C-46s have so far made the trip from Chicago to Brownsville, Partridge said, and some of the aliens from the Midwest already have left for Veracruz.

State To Receive $14,904 Payment For Right-Of-Way

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Ellen Bryan Moore, register of the state land office, said today the state treasury will receive $14,904 from the grant of a gas pipeline right-of-way over state-owned water bottoms in St. Mary Parish.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co., a Texas corporation, will build and operate a 40-mile pipeline in East Cote Blanche Bay. It paid the sum to the State Land Office.

Permission was granted by Gov. Robert Kennon and Mrs. Moore for the right-of-way.

The location is in the Eugene Island offshore area.

Magnolia will pipe gas from offshore mineral rigs operated by Magnolia, Continental Oil Co. and Newmont Oil Co.

The 12½-inch pipeline will extend southwest and then southeast into the Gulf of Mexico from a proposed station site onshore in the Bayou Sale Bay portion of East Cote Blanche Bay.

Russia Votes To Put Ike's Atom Plan Before UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 24—UP—Russia joined in a unanimous vote Friday to put President Eisenhower's "atoms for peace" plan on the United Nations agenda but indicated it would demand a ban on nuclear weapons before taking part in the program.

Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky said Russia is "prepared to continue conversations" with the United States on the project. He added, however, that all nuclear weapons must be outlawed as a pre-condition.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, revealing details of the Eisenhower plan before the General Assembly Thursday, also disclosed that Russia had delivered a note in Moscow Wednesday "affirming its readiness to talk further."

"But the note still gave no indication that the USSR had receded from its negative position," Dulles said.

Vishinsky made his statement before the 15-nation steering committee which met before Friday's General Assembly session. The committee action put on the UN program an American proposal under which plans of the United States and seven allies for a peace-time atomic pool could be discussed.

"The task is not to confine ourselves only to proposals for peaceful uses of atomic energy but also to reach agreement on the prohibition of atomic weapons," Vishinsky said.

He then said he had no opposition to putting the item on the work sheet and asked that the decision be unanimous "so that our position is clear."

"We make it quite clear," Vishinsky said. "We declare our readiness to continue talks. Again, I must say, we are prepared to continue conversations."

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who had expressed regret that the Kremlin refused to participate in the President's plan, spoke after Vishinsky.

"No one would be happier than the United States to find that the Soviet Union is willing to cooperate in this great plan," Lodge said. "But let us not forget the proverb: 'Actions speak louder than words.'"

for many yards along the important thoroughfare.

Monroe feels entitled to a direct airline service from here to Washington, D. C., and New York without change of seat. To this end, Louis D. Smith, local attorney, has just appeared before the Civil Aeronautics board and made an earnest plea for the improved service.

He declared that Monroe is today a trade center for 350,000 to 400,000 people. He said: "We know full well we won't get deluxe one stop DC 7 service between Monroe and the northeast, but we do feel we should get direct, one carrier service."

He got in a plug for the city when he said: "Monroe through sentimental reasons feels a deep interest in Delta Airlines and always will regard the lines keenly, for Delta originated here, and here were the first home offices of the company. Some of the leading stockholders and officers were from here at the outset such as the late C. E. Faulk, first president, and today Travis Oliver, highly esteemed local banker, is the treasurer of the system." We hope he gets the desired results and so do all Monroians.

Monroe students in years past in many cases pursued night courses, university nature, here during the fall, winter and spring months when L. S. U. was brought to their doors. One of the leading extension instructors here and in this area was Dr. John Marshall Nason, who is at this time retiring. He was a capable and untiring instructor and students of past years will regret that he is relinquishing duties that were so near to his heart.

The recent death of Mrs. Bert Williams, wife of retired dentist, Dr. B. G. Williams, Sr., occasioned old residents of Monroe to recall a page of former local history.

Mrs. Williams was the former Miss Louise Bracey. Local historians familiar with the Bracey family, and that of the founding of St. Francis sanitarium, recall that on or about 1912, the Bracey family resided in a residence on the site of today's big hospital. It was there that the future Mrs. Williams was born. The property at Jackson and Wood streets was for sale and Catholic Father Enaut decided to purchase it. He confessed he had no money and had never in his life ever owned any real estate but he is reported to have borrowed $3,000, the full purchase price of the site, from Roland Filhiol, and a little later in 1913, the original St. Francis sanitarium was erected.

ably yielded to the entreaties" of senators who wanted all the time they could get for election campaigning.

Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kans.) another committee member, gasped with surprise when told of Knowland's announcement. But then he told reporters it was "rather what I expected" and said he considered it "a very good decision."

Committee chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) said the 60,000-word report will include discussions and "conclusions" on the general charges against McCarthy. It also is expected to discuss proposed new rules governing congressional investigations.

Watkins said the report does not require formal signing, and at least one committee member, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) gave his approval before the 120-page document was in its final form.

Johnson left about mid-day for Colorado where he will campaign for governor. At that time, however, a committee member reported that the group had reached "unanimous agreement on the main features" of the case.

The Colorado highway department is reported able to predict within eight hours the time of mountain avalanches in that state.

Nationalists Hit Chinese Coast In Bombing Forays

TAIPEI, Sept. 24—UP—Hundreds of Chinese Nationalist fighter-bombers flew through the fringes of a typhoon Friday and sank or damaged 34 Communist boats along the China coast, government sources reported.

The day-long raid blasted Red artillery positions while Nationalist and Communist guns duelled across the waters separating the two forces. Nationalists reported "extremely heavy" anti-aircraft fire, bolstering reports the Reds had brought in reinforcements to Amoy.

The Nationalist Navy fired thousands of shells into the Communist positions along the coast despite a typhoon warning, hoping to wreak as much damage as possible before the coming storm drives them to port.

There were reports here that Communist Chinese broadcasts from Shanghai had warned the population of Formosa that bombing attacks against Chiang Kai-shek's island bastion would begin Sept. 28, but there was no official confirmation of the broadcasts. The traditional birthday of Confucius is Sept. 28.

Nationalist fighter-bombers flew through driving rains Friday to hit the Communist positions on the southeast China coast ahead of a typhoon with 70-mile-an-hour winds expected to hit the area soon.

Despite Friday's heavy air and sea bombardments and strikes by 100 Nationalist planes Thursday, the Communists kept up their shellings of Quemoy, some 14 miles from Amoy. A spokesman said "hundreds" of Red shells fell on Quemoy Friday.

Nationalist troops on Quemoy were put on the alert to repel Communist sneak raids under cover of rain and fog.

enor and Mrs. Beebe. The men were placed on the floor, Mrs. Beebe on a couch. All were assured they wouldn't be hurt if they kept quiet.

With the vault finally open, the bandits used adding machine covers as bags into which they scooped cash. Then they fled, apparently in a waiting automobile. The money was on hand in the bank, for payrolls.

They had scarcely left when Tichenor managed to roll over to a floor button with which he sounded an alarm to police headquarters.

Patrolman John Bradley rushed for his car at the alarm and headed for the bank. His car and another collided a few blocks away and he was taken to a hospital.

One of the robbers was described as about 30, short and stocky, wearing a green "Eisenhower" jacket and a wide-brimmed brown felt hat.

AFL Delegates

Following Mr. Eisenhower's 18-minute talk, praised the President's appearance before the convention because, he said, it indicated the President recognized "the right of free men to differ on any issue."

Tension Relaxed

The President relaxed any obvious tension of AFL leaders when he shook hands with Meany and joked:

"Well, I'm glad to see we're still speaking."

The federation gave the President a standing ovation lasting 24 seconds and then settled back silently to await his remarks. Mr. Eisenhower, with a smile, said:

"I understand that by tradition you're completely and absolutely non-political. Well, I can't say what a relief it is to address a non-political audience."

A roar of laughter followed and put the convention in a more relaxed mood as the President went on to promise the federation that he would study "thoroughly and sympathetically" its differences with the administration. Mr. Eisenhower won quick agreement from his listeners and loud applause when he said "we both do agree on fighting communism."

3 Firemen

fanned by high winds, forced the evacuation of more than 300 persons and burned six homes and an estimated 1,200 acres. The fire was described as one of the worst in Los Angeles County history.

More than 500 men were on the swirling fire line, along a 16-mile front. Southern Pacific trains were stopped at Chatsworth as flames crackled over the right-of-way.

A third blaze menaced the mountain town of Frazier Park, nearly 80 miles north of Los Angeles, for the third time in two days. Forest service specialists were aiding in the fight at Chatsworth and Frazier Park.

Another fire in the San Ysidro Mountains east of Warner Hot Springs in San Diego County has burned 6,000 acres. And a new fire broke out this afternoon at Agoura, 18 miles west of there, and spread rapidly.

High winds and low humidity were hindering the fire fighting.

Newly Organized Explorers Club Holds First Meet

Monroe's newly-formed Explorers Club launched its first meeting last night when Robert Davis, noted photographer, lecturer and adventurer, told a packed terrace at the Frances Hotel about "Iceland, Capital of the North."

Before Davis' film and commentary was presented, the members of the club were feted with a typical meal that would be served in Iceland—a unique part of the American club's regular program. A typical meal from the country about which the lecture concerns is always served at such functions.

In addition, the lecturer always shows a film with commentary—a film made by the lecturer himself.

Last night, George Turner, of Little Rock, Ark., founder of the Explorers Club movement which is rapidly spreading from its point of origin in his own state, was present at the meeting. Brig. Gen. George Trousdale acted as Master of Ceremonies. He and Turner are old friends, having been schoolmates at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

It has been announced that membership is still open in the organization.

Turner originated the unique luncheon club soon after he moved his home to Arkansas and Gov. Cherry commissioned him an "Arkansas Traveler." In Arkansas this commission instructs a holder to serve as an ambassador of good will to other areas of the U. S., or elsewhere, wherever he might travel.

But instead of Turner taking the message of Arkansas to the world, he got the idea of bringing the world's message to Arkansas. He organized 16 Explorers Clubs in that state in 12 months, and is now spreading to other regions.

The speaker of last night has been booked for two lecture per-

Wetback Airlift Gets Under Way

M'ALLEN, Tex., Sept. 24—UP—The border patrol plans to fly at least one plane load of wetbacks daily from the Midwest to Brownsville, it was announced Friday.

But even then, said Gen. Frank H. Partridge, assistant to the U.S. immigration commissioner, it will take six months to clear the Midwest of the illegal Mexican aliens.

About 50 wetbacks are carried in each plane. From Brownsville, they are deported by boat from Port Isabel, Tex., to Veracruz, Mexico.

More than 120,000 illegal aliens left the lower Rio Grande Valley in July and August, the patrol reported. Some were deported; others left voluntarily.

Partridge said the aliens in the Midwest are spread over a much larger area and have a wider variety of jobs, mostly industrial. Those in the Valley are looking for farm jobs almost exclusively, he said.

The aliens in the Midwest are more prosperous and some have cars, he added. These are permitted to drive back to Mexico.

Special Course In Sociology Offered Again

Northeast will offer again this year as one of its special courses Sociology 125, an introduction to social welfare. It is pre-professional course designed for persons presently engaged in any phase of social work and students preparing for graduate study in the field.

Meeting time for the class will be from 4:30 to 7 p. m. each Tuesday in room 204 of Brown Hall. These hours are considered practical for persons who are employed.

Any one desiring to enroll may do so as late as Tuesday during the class hour.

The course will be flexible enough to best answer the needs of the group whose interests are varied. It will carry three semester hours of credit.

Sociology 125 has proved valuable in the past to nurses, visiting teachers, welfare visitors, religious educators and youth counselors, including those directing activities of groups such as the YMCA, YWCA and Scouts.

A special feature will be lectures by specialists in the fields of family case consideration, correctional institutions, guidance clinics, medical and psychiatric social work, social security, social group activities, community organization, and other phases of sociological study.

WAF From Monroe Killed In Texas

Funeral plans were incomplete last night for WAF Wanda Waldrup, 22, who was killed Thursday night near Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, when she was struck by an automobile.

Miss Waldrup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Waldrup of Monroe, had left Monroe Monday and had only been at her Lackland station for three days when the accident occurred.

An Associated Press report on the accident said that Miss Waldrup was knocked 50 feet when struck by the vehicle driven by Victor Irvin, a Lackland airman. Irvin was booked for negligent homicide.

Ike Seeking To Ease Restrictions On Trade, Money

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower assured finance ministers and central bankers gathered here from 57 nations today that they could count on continued U.S. support for "efforts to free the world from restrictions on the flow of trade and money."

The President's message was read to the annual governors meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who gave it quick, restrictive interpretation.

In the host's speech to the Free World gathering, which centers this year on progress toward convertibility — free exchange — of now restricted currencies, Humphrey said the greatest contribution the United States could make would be to keep its own economy "healthy and growing at a high level."

This passage was inserted in Humphrey's speech only an hour before he spoke. It appeared to be an attempt to make sure the President's "assurance of our support" would not be interpreted as opening the door to the possibility that the United States might underwrite a return to freedom of currency and trade in the Western world with a stabilization fund of its own.

Foreign quarters have often sug-

Convict Given Death Sentence For Slaying

INDIANOLA, Miss., Sept. 24 (AP)—A. C. LaFontaine was sentenced to death today for the slaying of a fellow convict in their penitentiary dormitory last March.

Dist. Atty. Stanny Sanders said LaFontaine did not testify and no testimony was offered in his defense.

Sanders said the guilty verdict automatically sentenced LaFontaine to death, but under Mississippi law appeal from a death sentence is automatic.

Another convict, F. L. Scott, charged as an accessory, pleaded guilty to murder and received a life sentence.

Testimony showed there had been difficulty between LaFontaine and his victim, Ralph DeLoach.

A fellow prisoner, unidentified for fear of prison reprisal, testified he saw LaFontaine and Scott approach the bed where DeLoach lay with the blanket pulled over his head to shut out the light. He said that Scott stood on one side of the bunk to prevent DeLoach from escaping and LaFontaine reached under the cover from the other side and slashed DeLoach's throat.

When DeLoach tried to rise, Scott struck him, the prisoner said. DeLoach ran to the end of the dormitory where he collapsed and died.

Judge David I. Garrett in Fourth District Court yesterday cracked down on traffic violators as well as those accused of more serious crimes, and meted out fines totaling $1,480, and sentences totaling 23 years and 10 months.

Thomas D. Cupit, who pleaded guilty to drunk driving, was fined $300 and costs, or, in default, three months in jail. George Bailey Dowdy, who also pleaded guilty to drunk driving, received a $300 fine, or 60 days in jail. Odie Lee Ward, previously remanded for sentence on a drunk driving charge, was sentenced to serve 90 days in jail from date of arrest.

Frazer Evans was fined $75 and costs, or 30 days, after pleading guilty to reckless driving; on a

Special Course In Sociology Offered Again

Northeast will offer again this year as one of its special courses Sociology 125, an introduction to social welfare. It is pre-professional course designed for persons presently engaged in any phase of social work and students preparing for graduate study in the field.

Meeting time for the class will be from 4:30 to 7 p. m. each Tuesday in room 204 of Brown Hall. These hours are considered practical for persons who are employed.

Any one desiring to enroll may do so as late as Tuesday during the class hour.

The course will be flexible enough to best answer the needs of the group whose interests are varied. It will carry three semester hours of credit.

Sociology 125 has proved valuable in the past to nurses, visiting teachers, welfare visitors, religious educators and youth counselors, including those directing activities of groups such as the YMCA, YWCA and Scouts.

A special feature will be lectures by specialists in the fields of family case consideration, correctional institutions, guidance clinics, medical and psychiatric social work, social security, social group activities community organization, and other phases of sociological study.

WAF From Monroe Killed In Texas

Funeral plans were incomplete last night for WAF Wanda Waldrip, 22, who was killed Thursday night near Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, when she was struck by an automobile.

Miss Waldrip, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Waldrip of Monroe, had left Monroe Monday and had only been at her Lackland station for three days when the accident occurred.

An Associated Press report on the accident said that Miss Waldrip was knocked 50 feet when struck by the vehicle driven by Victor Irvin, a Lackland airman. Irvin was booked for negligent homicide.

Ike Seeking To Ease Restrictions On Trade, Money

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower assured finance ministers and central bankers gathered here from 57 nations today that they could count on continued U.S. support for "efforts to free the world from restrictions on the flow of trade and money."

The President's message was read to the annual governors meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who gave it quick, restrictive interpretation.

In the host's speech to the Free World gathering, which centers this year on progress toward convertibility — free exchange — of now restricted currencies, Humphrey said the greatest contribution the United States could make would be to keep its own economy "healthy and growing at a high level."

This passage was inserted in Humphrey's speech only an hour before he spoke. It appeared to be an attempt to make sure the President's "assurance of our support" would not be interpreted as opening the door to the possibility that the United States might underwrite a return to freedom of currency and trade in the Western world with a stabilization fund of its own.

Foreign quarters have often sug-

Maybe Stevenson Is Right?

Former Governor of Illinois, Adlai E. Stevenson has spoken his ideas on foreign policy as regards the Asian sector of the battle against international Marxism. His idea is relatively simple: permit the Red Chinese to engulf Formosa; get rid of Chiang and his troops.

In short, turn over a key fortress of freedom to the Communists.

Maybe Stevenson is right. Maybe the United States should permit Chiang to be captured and tortured by the Communists. Maybe he should be dragged through the streets of Taipei and Shanghai and maybe he should be given the favorite Chinese Communist torture, "The death of a thousand knives," wherein a victim is spread eagled on a rude cross and is slowly dismembered in a dreadful, painful way, joint by joint, piece by piece while still alive.

Then, while he still breathes, his eyes are plucked out and his tongue is ripped out by hand.

Maybe this should happen to a great Christian Chinese whose only fault was his hate of the Communist conspiracy and his love of a free China. Maybe his troops should suffer a similar fate so that almost a million more friends and fighters for a free and peaceful world could be eliminated.

Ah, wouldn't that please the British who declare their love for freedom on one hand, and their craven desire for economic supremacy on the other? Wouldn't that please the wretched and decadent French who are so hoping for peace at any price? Wouldn't that please the international bankers who are hoping upon hope that the way will soon be made easy for them to amass new and untold fortunes at the expense of others.

Maybe Adlai is right! Maybe the Communist Chinese should "liberate" Formosa killing and destroying their way through a peace loving, free and intelligent people. Maybe the Communist Conspiracy should be given another great shot in the arm so that it can increase the speed of the destruction timetable for the United States.

Maybe the people all over Asia who formerly looked with awe and great respect to the United States, (a nation with a hundred year record of fairness and decency in the Orient), should see the U. S. in its real light, that of a despicable, crawling gutter rat, sniveling before the Communist masters, pleading for a "peace" at any price so that fatter rodents at home can collect new fortunes at the price of more and yet more American suffering, blood and life.

Maybe the way in Asia should be made much easier for the Communists who have such great plans for the world. The reader is very familiar with these excellently prepared plans which include the outright murder of a third of the American people.

Maybe Governor Stevenson is right. Maybe the Chinese Communists should be allowed to capture all the remaining parts of Asia. This would enable the European branch of the Conspiracy to enfold all of Europe in its tender arms and thus completely isolate the United States and open the way to its final destruction.

Who knows, maybe Governor Stevenson with a record as crimson as the evening sunset knows how to protect the American people better than General MacArthur, or General Chennault, or General Wedemeyer, or John Edgar Hoover, or General Van Fleet. Maybe his idea of knuckling under to the Communists is the right way. His way would perhaps save much American blood for the time being. Of course, in the final analysis, even more would be spread across the face of a once beautiful land.

Maybe Harry Truman is right in denouncing the American foreign policy along with Stevenson. Both of them were so greatly responsible for the "peace" of today. Both of them were such outstanding anti-Communists during their public careers.

Both of them are of course, directly responsible for what has happened to this otherwise happy land. Adlai Stevenson is such a wise man.

He has degrees on degrees and he speaks beautiful and pleasant English. Without a flaw, he speaks this English, so that everyone will understand him.

Maybe he is right.

But, it is wondered what then will happen to Korea, to Japan, to the Philippines, to Thailand, to India, to Burma, to Australia, to New Zealand, to Okinawa, to Indonesia and to all the Pacific Islands. As the readers know, Formosa is the key to all of this. Chiang's troops do constitute the largest anti-Communist force in that part of the world.

Maybe Stevenson is right. Give them up to the Reds and die a slow and painful death, quite like that planned for Chiang and his many loyal and devoted countrymen.

Maybe Adlai is right. The United States record since Roosevelt's assumption to the "throne" has been particularly miserable. No sense in changing such a deplorable record. Might as well "improve" on it and put the finishing touches on one of the last real friends of the American people. That's what Adlai wants.

Maybe he's right.

This newspaper which many times disagrees with the President, Dwight Eisenhower, on his approaches to various policies, which deplores and despises many of the President's advisors who are helping to destroy him, looks with interest at Mr. Stevenson—then, pauses and thinks, —Thank God for Dwight Eisenhower.

U. S. Fought Russia

Communist China's persistent efforts to obtain membership in the United Nations continue to be strongly opposed by the U. S. and other western powers. But Russia, which has contributed nothing of a constructive nature to the UN, remains a member in good standing. It is difficult to reconcile opposition to membership by the Chinese Reds with acceptance of the boys from the Kremlin.

It is becoming clearer every day that Russia practically fought the war against United States and UN forces in Korea. Neither China nor North Korea, with primitive weapons and untrained troops, could have withstood the onslaughts of U. S. air power and tanks.

Thousands of trained Russian personnel were in Korea through the entire war, while practically all weapons and munitions captured were made in Russian factories. Yet Russia is given an important voice in negotiations for peace in the Far East.

George Sokolsky

THESE DAYS And Now It's The Bike

Those who favor free trade have many arguments which sound logical but they have to answer the fact that a number of marginal industries in the United States cannot compete in the American market against imported goods produced by low wages, often with a government subsidy, sometimes out of funds given to such a government by the American taxpayer. If there is to be free trade, there should be no subsidies, no dumping and no wage differentials.

I have seen it said that if American goods cannot be made so that they can compete with goods from European and Asiatic countries, they ought not to make that particular commodity. We ought to abandon that industry. Paul Hoffman once wrote a book supporting some such concept. But how are we to absorb the labor involved in such abandoned industries? Those laborers are American citizens who desire to earn a living the same as automobile and steel workers. They do not want to be on relief. They do not choose to be unemployed so that some European can work.

Now the bicycle industry is adding its voice to the wail, the ceramic and the electrical equipment industries. The bicycle industry says that it is going broke in competition with European bicycles which are flooding the American market. They show that in 1949, foreign bicycles sold in this market amounted to 15,757 and that for the first six months of 1954, these sales have increased to 29,514. In 1953, 393,659 foreign-made bicycles were imported into the United States. In 1954, the sales amounted to about 23 percent of the total American market; in 1954, it shows 40 percent during the first six months.

The Bicycle Institute of America, obviously a public relations organization, says in its pamphlet: "In the record-breaking year of 1948, 2,761,437 American bikes were sold in this country. Despite a heavy demand for anything on wheels, it is worth noting that only 16,874 foreign lightweight bikes were sold."

"Suddenly, however, imports jumped to 66,289 in 1950 and since then have not stopped their upward trend. Why did this change occur? For no other reason than that duty rates on imported bikes were cut drastically to as low as 7 1/2 percent in 1948, followed by the British devaluation of their currency in 1949, resulting in the equivalent of another 30 percent duty cut.

"As a result, the prices of foreign bikes dropped sharply. It was these prices, beyond our control, that broke down sales resistance in many quarters."

These statements should not be discounted because they are self-serving. Our nation consists of a large number of groups of self-interest, each of which is important because it employs workers, uses raw materials, pays taxes and keeps the economic wheels turning. If enough of these groups have to shut down their plants, unemployment can grow to disastrous dimensions.

One of the answers to this is that unless we let in large quantities of foreign-made goods, it will be impossible for us to export our production. This is true and therefore we face a playing problem for which no rule-of-thumb answer will suffice. Charles P. Taft, who is doing public relations work for the free-traders, adopts a strictly doctrinaire position: Free trade is sound in theoretic economics; therefore free trade should be pursued.

This formula does not solve our problem of maintaining existing industries in this country or full employment. The bicycle industry in the United States is 77 years old, has survived wars and depressions but is now in real peril. The European bicycle industry, employing cheaper labor and often getting government subsidies, can produce exactly the same bike as an American manufacturer can produce but at a cheaper price, in our country, than an American bike can be sold for. Why buy an American bike? What the free-traders fail to realize is that if limitless imports produce unemployment in this country, the politicians will move in to speak for their constituencies. Unemployment was a factor in the Maine election. The politicians could go to the other extreme of producing a wholly uneconomic tariff on the high side.

Our Children

The Activity Program

The activity program as a new way of learning, as a startling modern discovery in educational theory and practice is apt to be just more words, movement, noise, grouping and regrouping children. Paste and paper and hammers and saws and conferences and reference books as a mere protest against the silent bench and the books can be meaningless. Learning is the business of each child. What he gets hold of and holds on to counts for him. Work in groups is apt to be wasteful. Out of six or a dozen who form the conference group one or two do the job. The rest and their heads. The smart one allows the group. The rest are parasites. As a basic play of procedure group work develops in too many an attitude of "Let George do it." Schools are established so that each one learns, leads, stands on his own feet, develops the power he possesses. And these may be developed at a noisy bench or at a book in a silent seat.

The school that serves its purpose brings the life of the home and the community into the classrooms. It allows the children to live as they live at home. Their accustomed life at the school door with their wraps and their rubbers. It helps the children to understand these activities and makes their thinking and their behavior more direct, more purposive. As a protest to the old sit and listen school the activity program rightly tries to free the child from the commanding eye and will of the teacher. But it forgets that this is not all of school life. Children need to be directed. They will not readily study tables, phonic elements, lists of words, techniques that are fundamental to learning. There is little sense in making a game of reading and then not learning to read. The accomplishment itself is the prize and it can be made as satisfying and as honorable as smearing paint on a sheet of paper. The activity program forgets that reading, writing, spelling, composition, numbering, computing are important to the community. Learning them well, even though apparently still, is as vibrant an activity as a violin string in full motion. Out of this silent learning comes strength and clarity and sureness. No, the activity program does not abolish educational principles. Children learn as they always learned, by being taught, through repetition, application, communication, by developing useful skills. Any teacher knows that the child is just as active when he studies a poem, writes a composition, solves a mathematical problem as he is when he makes a box to set seeds in. When we introduce manual activities into the schoolroom we must not neglect the book. The workbook is useful in stimulating the body to work in harmony with the mind, to prevent what might be lopsided growth but it is far from being all there is to learning.

Is your child a slow child, always behind in school and at play? In leaflet P-11, "Slowness," Dr. Patri explains how rhythm develops faster motions in a child.

IN WASHINGTON Promised Too Much

Republicans now realize that they promised too much in their campaign to elect Dwight D. Eisenhower to the presidency. Political parties never expect to carry out their campaign pledges in full, but in the fine flurry of prospective victory, they sometimes commit themselves to a program so visionary that many voters do not expect it to be fulfilled.

That was the case in 1952, when several million voted for the man who was elected, without being greatly concerned as to whether he could perform the feats he said he could.

Now the political chickens have come home to roost, meaning that the failure of the Republican administration to live up to all its promises provides the Democrats with the best ammunition they have in the battle to control the next Congress.

Without any intention of starting a political argument a question can be raised as to what the Democrats would do if they did gain control of Congress, and whether they intend to offer much of a positive program in this campaign? Perhaps they can win without doing more than lash at the change in course of the ship of state, but voters like to know in what direction the country is heading.

One present concern of a majority of Democrats and Republicans in Congress is the financial condition of the United States, with a national debt pointing at 300 billion dollars, which could reach that figure in another year if the new Congress chose to throw off spending curbs.

Would a Democratic congress continue such economies as the Republicans have accomplished?

It has already become apparent that the next Congress will be unable to make much progress toward a balanced budget, but will be called on for increased military expenditures to keep pace with Soviet Russian armament, and to wave a big stick at Red China.

Campaigning Democrats can ask whether the "more armament for less money" slogan of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has worked out in fact, inasmuch as the weight of military opinion against Wilson is impressive. So, a Democratic congress would have a made to order explanation for a larger budget. Would a Democratic Congress seek to restore rigid farm price supports?

Farm price supports cost the federal government $419,477,000 during the last fiscal year, with rigid supports on basic crops, compared with $61,000,000 the previous year. The liquidation of surplus commodities, of which 6 billion dollars worth have piled up under rigid supports, will cost the government another estimated one billion dollars. Flexible supports provided in the new farm act, are expected to cut support payments at least by half.

A sort of off beat note in the utterances of Democratic leaders has been a suggestion, first made by former President Truman, that a Democratic congress would give President Eisenhower firmer support on his program than he received from Republicans at its last session. Accepting that at its value, the question still remains whether the president could get along with Democratic congressional leaders. He hasn't given them much attention, in spite of the considerable amount of support he has received from the minority members of House and Senate. The outlook for collaboration is not good.

The chief spokesman on the future of the Democratic party has been Adlai E. Stevenson. The consensus of opinion here is that the former Illinois governor, one of the gifted political speakers of this century, has not revealed what he believes the Democratic program should be.

In short, are the Democrats ready to assume the responsibility which goes with control of Congress? That responsibility includes control over the federal purse. The president cannot veto individual budget items, which means that appropriation bills must be signed into law or vetoed in toto.

An increased federal debt at this time, even as the result of an increased military budget should have any reduction in federal taxes might require restoration of some cuts recently made. Otherwise, the nation could find its finances shaky. A 300 billion dollar debt is a financial load that even the richest nation in the world will find difficult in carrying.

Congressional Quarterly

83rd Congress Has Undertaken 215 Probes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (CQ) — Congressional investigators have conducted 117 probes during the past 13 months to bring to 215 the number of inquiries launched by the 83rd Congress, according to a Congressional Quarterly survey.

Additional probes will be undertaken before the 84th Congress convenes, CQ added.

Ninety-eight investigations were undertaken during the first session of the 83rd, CQ said. Since the first session adjourned Aug. 3, 1953, House committees have conducted 57 probes, while Senate units have sponsored 52. Eight probes have been started by joint committees.

By comparison, CQ said, the 82nd, sometimes called the "investigatingest" Congress in history, undertook 236 probes.

Investigations started since the end of the first session of the 83rd have been dominated by internal security problems — the search for Communists, subversives and security risks.

Most publicized Red-hunter was Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R., Wis.). His Permanent Investigations Subcommittee undertook seven of the 29 Congressional internal security probes started since adjournment of the first session of the 83rd Congress.

Sixteen Senate inquiries dealt with internal security. All but two were conducted either by McCarthy's Subcommittee or by the Judiciary Subcommittee on Internal Security, headed by Sen. William F. Jenner (R., Ind.). Other noteworthy Senate inquiries concerned the rise in coffee prices and windfall profits on housing.

The House undertook 10 anti-Red investigations, most of them handled by the Un-American Activities Committee. The House also investigated labor racketeering, tax-exempt foundations, coffee prices, and alleged "coddling" of athletes in military service.

Joint committees held two anti-Communist probes and one inquiry into housing abuses.

Thirty-one probes had only one day of public hearings each. The number of public hearings, however, does not necessarily indicate the scope of an inquiry, since a one-day hearing may result from weeks or even months of preliminary staff work.

Internal security probes ranged from alleged Communist infiltration of the Army to alleged Communist activities in the South and the use of the mails by organizations distributing subversive propaganda.

The Army inquiry opened with little fanfare. One-man, closed hearings conducted by Sen. McCarthy starting Aug. 31, 1953. But the trail eventually led to the Fort Monmouth Signal Corps inquiry and the case of Maj. Irving Peress. During this inquiry, McCarthy had his now-famous run-in with Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker.

The Zwicker incident led to the Army-McCarthy inquiry — 161 hours and 49 minutes of televised hearings. The dispute turned a full circle soon after Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R., Vt.) introduced a resolution of censure against McCarthy. A Senate select committee was created to study the charges. So within a year's time, McCarthy, once the probe, was being probed.

Two investigations, one of which is still underway, were launched into abuses in the nation's housing laws. Investigators found evidence that some builders had taken multi-million dollar "windfall" profits on mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Authority.

Three committees held hearings on coffee prices, which skyrocketed early in 1954. The price of coffee began to go down, but further studies may come up in the 84th Congress.

A House Select Committee headed by Rep. B. Carroll Reece (R., Tenn.) conducted a study of tax-exempt foundations. Reece, who said the inquiry was designed to find if foundations are socialist dominated, ended public sessions before the foundations were permitted to testify in their own behalf. Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D., Ohio), who protested committee decisions, has called for an investigation of "right-wing" foundations.

On July 7 every year fighting bulls are set loose in the streets of Pamplona, Basque city of the Spanish Pyrenees. On this feast day, says the National Geographic Society, would-be matadors prove their skill and courage by challenging the beasts to charge. The sport sometimes gets rough, and even spectators may be knocked down and occasionally trampled.

Maybe Stevenson Is Right?

Former Governor of Illinois, Adlai E. Stevenson has spoken his ideas on foreign policy as regards the Asian sector of the battle against international Marxism. His idea is relatively simple; permit the Red Chinese to engulf Formosa; get rid of Chiang and his troops.

In short, turn over a key fortress of freedom to the Communists.

Maybe Stevenson is right. Maybe the United States should permit Chiang to be captured and tortured by the Communists. Maybe he should be dragged through the streets of Taipei and Shanghai and maybe he should be given the favorite Chinese Communist torture, "The death of a thousand knives," wherein a victim is spread eagled on a rude cross and is slowly dismembered in a dreadful, painful way, joint by joint, piece by piece while still alive.

Then, while he still breathes, his eyes are plucked out and his tongue is ripped out by hand.

Maybe this should happen to a great Christian Chinese whose only fault was his hate of the Communist conspiracy and his love of a free China. Maybe his troops should suffer a similar fate so that almost a million more friends and fighters for a free and peaceful world could be eliminated.

Ah, wouldn't that please the British who declare their love for freedom on one hand, and their craven desire for economic supremacy on the other? Wouldn't that please the wretched and decadent French who are so hoping for peace at any price? Wouldn't that please the international bankers who are hoping upon hope that the way will soon be made easy for them to amass new and untold fortunes at the expense of others.

Maybe Adlai is right! Maybe the Communist Chinese should "liberate" Formosa killing and destroying their way through a peace loving, free and intelligent people. Maybe the Communist Conspiracy should be given another great shot in the arm so that it can increase the speed of the destruction timetable for the United States.

Maybe the people all over Asia who formerly looked with awe and great respect to the United States, (a nation with a hundred year record of fairness and decency in the Orient), should see the U. S. in its real light, that of a despicable, crawling gutter rat, sniveling before the Communist masters, pleading for a "peace" at any price so that fatter rodents at home can collect new fortunes at the price of more and yet more American suffering, blood and life.

Maybe the way in Asia should be made much easier for the Communists who have such great plans for the world. The reader is very familiar with these excellently prepared plans which include the outright murder of a third of the American people.

Maybe Governor Stevenson is right. Maybe the Chinese Communists should be allowed to capture all the remaining parts of Asia. This would enable the European branch of the Conspiracy to enfold all of Europe in its tender arms and thus completely isolate the United States and open the way to its final destruction.

Who knows, maybe Governor Stevenson with a record as crimson as the evening sunset knows how to protect the American people better than General MacArthur, or General Chennault, or General Wedemeyer, or John Edgar Hoover, or General Van Fleet. Maybe his idea of knuckling under to the Communists is the right way. His way would perhaps save much American blood for the time being. Of course, in the final analysis, even more would be spread across the face of a once beautiful land.

Maybe Harry Truman is right in denouncing the American foreign policy along with Stevenson. Both of them were so greatly responsible for the "peace" of today. Both of them were such outstanding anti-Communists during their public careers.

Both of them are of course, directly responsible for what has happened to this otherwise happy land.

Adlai Stevenson is such a wise man.

He has degrees on degrees and he speaks beautiful and pleasant English. Without a flaw, he speaks this English, so that everyone will understand him.

Maybe he is right.

But, it is wondered what then will happen to Korea, to Japan, to the Philippines, to Thailand, to India, to Burma, to Australia, to New Zealand, to Okinawa, to Indonesia and to all the Pacific islands. As the readers know, Formosa is the key to all of this. Chiang's troops do constitute the largest anti-Communist force in that part of the world.

Maybe Stevenson is right. Give them up to the Reds and die a slow and painful death, quite like that planned for Chiang and his many loyal and devoted countrymen.

Maybe Adlai is right. The United States record since Roosevelt's assumption to the "throne" has been particularly miserable. No sense in changing such a deplorable record. Might as well "improve" on it and put the finishing touches on one of the last real friends of the American people. That's what Adlai wants.

Maybe he's right.

This newspaper which many times disagrees with the President, Dwight Eisenhower, on his approaches to various policies, which deplores and despises many of the President's advisors who are helping to destroy him, looks with interest at Mr. Stevenson—then, pauses and thinks,

—Thank God for Dwight Eisenhower.

U. S. Fought Russia

Communist China's persistent efforts to obtain membership in the United Nations continue to be strongly opposed by the U. S. and other western powers. But Russia, which has contributed nothing of a constructive nature to the UN, remains a member in good standing. It is difficult to reconcile opposition to membership by the Chinese Reds with acceptance of the boys from the Kremlin.

It is becoming clearer every day that Russia practically fought the war against United States and UN forces in Korea. Neither China nor North Korea, with primitive weapons and untrained troops, could have withstood the onslaughts of U. S. air power and tanks.

Thousands of trained Russian personnel were in Korea through the entire war, while practically all weapons and munitions captured were made in Russian factories. Yet Russia is given an important voice in negotiations for peace in the Far East.

THESE DAYS
And Now It's The Bike

Those who favor free trade have many arguments which sound logical but they have to answer the fact that a number of marginal industries in the United States cannot compete in the American market against imported goods produced by low wages, often with a government subsidy, sometimes out of funds given to such a government by the American taxpayer. If there is to be free trade, there should be no subsidies, no dumping and no wage differentials.

I have seen it said that if American goods cannot be made so that they can compete with goods from European and Asiatic countries, we ought not to make that particular commodity. We ought to abandon that industry. Paul Hoffman once wrote a book supporting some such concept. But how are we to absorb the labor involved in such abandoned industries? Those laborers are American citizens who desire to earn a living the same as automobile and steel workers. They do not want to be on relief. They do not choose to be unemployed so that some Europeans can work.

Now the bicycle industry is adding its voice to the watch, the ceramic and the electrical equipment industries. The bicycle industry says that it is going broke in competition with European bicycles which are flooding the American market. They show that in 1949, foreign bicycles sold in this market amounted to 15,757 and that for the first six months of 1954, these sales have increased to 291,314. In 1953, 593,659 foreign-made bicycles were imported into the United States. In 1953, the sales amounted to about 23 percent of the total American market; in 1954, it shows 40 percent during the first six months.

The Bicycle Institute of America, obviously a public relations organization, says in its pamphlet:

"In the record-breaking year of 1948, 2,761,437 American bikes were sold in this country. Despite a heavy demand for anything on wheels, it is worth noting that only 16,874 foreign lightweight bikes were sold."

Suddenly, however, imports sales jumped to 65,289 in 1950—and since then have not stopped their upward trend. Why did this change occur? For no other reason than that duty rates on imported bikes were cut drastically to as low as 7½ percent in 1948, followed by the British devaluation of their currency in 1949, resulting in the equivalent of another 30 percent duty cut.

"As a result, the prices of foreign bikes dropped sharply. It was these prices, beyond our control, that broke down sales resistance in many quarters."

These statements should not be discounted because they are self-serving. Our nation consists of a large number of groups of self-interest, each of which is important because it employs workers, uses raw materials, pays taxes and keeps the economic wheels turning. If enough of these groups have to shut down their plants, unemployment can grow to disastrous dimensions.

One of the answers to this is that unless we let in large quantities of foreign-made goods, it will be impossible for us to export our production. This is true and therefore we face a plugging problem for which no rule-of-thumb answer will suffice. Charles P. Taft, who is doing public relations work for the free-traders, adopts a strictly doctrinaire position: Free trade is sound in theoretic economics; therefore free trade should be pursued.

This formula does not solve our problem of maintaining existing industries in this country or full employment. The bicycle industry in the United States is 77 years old, has survived wars and depressions but is now in real peril. The European bicycle industry, employing cheaper labor and often getting government subsidies, can produce exactly the same bike as an American manufacturer can produce but at a cheaper price, in our country, than an American bike can be sold for. Why buy an American bike?

What the free-traders fail to realize is that if limitless imports produce unemployment in this country, the politicians will move in to speak for their constituencies. Unemployment was a factor in the Maine election. The politicians could go to the other extreme of producing a wholly uneconomic tariff on the high side.

The Activity Program

The activity program as a new way of learning, as a startling modern discovery in educational theory and practice is apt to be just more words, movement, noise, grouping and regrouping children. Paste and paper and hammers and saws and conferences and reference books as a mere protest against the silent bench and the books can be meaningless. Learning is the business of each child. What he gets holds of and holds on to counts for him. Work in groups is apt to be wasteful. Out of six or a dozen who form the conference group one or two do the job. The rest nod their heads. The smart one swallows the group. The rest are parasites. As a basic play of procedure group work develops in too many an attitude of "Let George do it." Schools are established so that each one learns, leads, stands on his own feet, develops the power he possesses. And these may be developed at a noisy bench or at a book in a silent seat.

The school that serves its purpose brings the life of the home and the community into the classrooms. It allows the children to keep on living instead of dropping their accustomed life at the school door with their wraps and their rubbers. It helps the children to understand these activities and makes their thinking and their behavior more direct, more purposeful. As a protest to the old sit and listen school the activity program rightly tries to free the child from the commanding eye and will of the teacher. But it forgets that this is not all of school life. Children need to be directed. They will not readily study tables, phonetic elements, lists of words, techniques that are fundamental to learning. There is little sense in making a game of reading and then learning to read. The accomplishment itself is the prize and it can be made as satisfying and as honorable as smearing paint on a sheet of paper. The activity program forgets that reading, writing, spelling, composition, numbering, computing are important to the community. Learning them well, even though apparently still, is as vibrant an activity as a violin string in full motion. Out of this silent learning comes strength and clarity and sureness.

No, the activity program does not abolish educational principles. Children learn as they always learned, by being taught, through repetition, application, communication, by developing useful skills. Any teacher knows that the child is just as active when he studies a poem, writes a composition, solves a mathematical problem as he is when he makes a box to set seeds in. When we introduce manual activities into the schoolroom we must not neglect the silent, persistent application to the book. The workbench is useful in stimulating the body to work in harmony with the mind, to prevent what might be lopsided growth but it is far from being all there is to learning.

IN WASHINGTON
Promised Too Much

Republicans now realize that they promised too much in their campaign to elect Dwight D. Eisenhower to the presidency. Political parties never expect to carry out their campaign pledges in full, but in the fine flurry of prospective victory, they sometimes commit themselves to a program so visionary that many voters do not expect it to be fulfilled.

That was the case in 1952, when several million voted for the man who was elected, without being greatly concerned as to whether he could perform the feats he said he could.

Now the political chickens have come home to roost, meaning that the failure of the Republican administration to live up to all its promises provides the Democrats with the best ammunition they have in the battle to control the next Congress.

Without any intention of starting a political argument a question can be raised as to what the Democrats would do if they did gain control of Congress, and whether they intend to offer much of a positive program in this campaign? Perhaps they can win without doing more than lash at the change in course of the ship of state, but voters like to know in what direction the country is heading.

One present concern of a majority of Democrats and Republicans in Congress is the financial condition of the United States, with a national debt pointing at 300 billion dollars, which could reach that figure in another year if the new Congress chose to throw off spending curbs.

Would a Democratic congress continue such economies as the Republicans have accomplished? It has already become apparent that the next Congress will be unable to make much progress toward a balanced budget, but will be called on for increased military expenditures to keep pace with Soviet Russian armament, and to have a big stick at Red China.

Campaigning Democrats can ask whether the "more armament for less money" slogan of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has worked out in fact, inasmuch as the weight of military opinion against Wilson is impressive. So, a Democratic congress would have a made to order explanation for a larger budget. Would a Democratic Congress seek to restore rigid farm price supports?

Farm price supports cost the federal government $419,477,000 during the last fiscal year with rigid supports on basic crops, compared with $61,000,000 the previous year. The liquidation of surplus commodities, of which 6 billion dollars worth have piled up under rigid supports, will cost the government another estimated one billion dollars. Flexible supports provided in the new farm act, are expected to cut support payments at least by half.

A sort of off beat note in the utterances of Democratic leaders has been a suggestion, first made by former President Truman, that a Democratic congress would give President Eisenhower firmer support on his program than he re-lapsed session. Accepting that at its value, the question still remains whether the president could get along with Democratic congressional leaders. He hasn't given them much attention, in spite of the considerable amount of support he has received from the minority members of House and Senate. The outlook for collaboration is not good.

The chief spokesman on the future of the Democratic party has been Adlai E. Stevenson. The consensus of opinion here is that the former Illinois governor, one of the gifted political speakers of this century, has not revealed what he believes the Democratic program should be.

In short, are the Democrats ready to assume the responsibility which goes with control of Congress? That responsibility includes control over the federal purse. The president cannot veto individual budget items, which means that appropriation bills must be signed into law or vetoed in toto.

An increased federal debt at this time, even as the result of an increased military budget should bar any reduction in federal taxes might require restoration of some cuts recently made. Otherwise, the nation could find its finances shaky. A 300 billion dollar debt is a financial load that even the richest nation in the world will find difficulty in carrying.

83rd Congress Has Undertaken 215 Probes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (CQ) — Congressional investigators have conducted 117 probes during the past 13 months to bring to 215 the number of inquiries launched by the 83rd Congress, according to a Congressional Quarterly survey. Additional probes will be undertaken before the 84th Congress convenes, CQ added.

Ninety-eight investigations were undertaken during the first session of the 83rd, CQ said. Since the first session adjourned Aug. 3, 1953, House committees have conducted 57 probes, while Senate units have sponsored 52. Eight probes have been started by joint committees. By comparison, CQ said, the 82nd, sometimes called the "investigatingest" Congress in history, undertook 236 probes.

Investigations started since the end of the first session of the 83rd have been dominated by internal security problems — the search for Communists, subversives and security risks.

Most publicized Red-hunter was Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R., Wis.). His Permanent Investigations Subcommittee undertook seven of the 29 Congressional internal security probes started since adjournment of the first session of the 83rd Congress.

Sixteen Senate inquiries dealt with internal security. All but two were conducted either by McCarthy's Subcommittee or by the Judiciary Subcommittee on Internal Security, headed by Sen. William E. Jenner (R., Ind.). Other noteworthy Senate inquests concerned the rise in coffee prices and windfall profits on housing.

The House undertook 10 anti-Red investigations, most of them handled by the Un-American Activities Committee. The House also investigated labor racketeering, tax-exempt foundations, coffee prices, and alleged "coddling" of athletes in military service.

Joint committees held two anti-Communist probes and one inquiry into housing abuses. Thirty-one probes had only one day of public hearings each. The number of public hearings, however, does not necessarily indicate the scope of an inquiry, since a one-day hearing may result from weeks or even months of preliminary staff work.

Internal security probes ranged from alleged Communist infiltration of the Army to alleged Communist activities in the South and the use of the mails by organizations distributing subversive propaganda.

The Army inquiry opened with little fanfare: One-man, closed hearings conducted by Sen. McCarthy starting Aug. 31, 1953. But the trail eventually led to the Fort Monmouth Signal Corps inquiry and the case of Maj. Irving Peress. During this inquiry, McCarthy had his now-famous run-in with Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwickler.

The Zwickler incident led to the Army-McCarthy inquiry — 161 hours and 49 minutes of televised hearings. The dispute turned a full circle soon after Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R., Vt.) introduced a resolution of censure against McCarthy. A Senate select committee was created to study the charges. So within a year's time, McCarthy, once the probe, was being probed.

Two investigations, one of which is still underway, were started into abuses in the nation's housing laws. Investigators found evidence that some builders had taken multi-million dollar "windfall" profits on mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Authority.

Three committees held hearings on coffee prices, which skyrocketed early in 1954. The price of coffee began to go down, but further studies may come up in the 84th Congress.

House Select Committee headed by Rep. B. Carroll Reece (R., Tenn.) conducted a study of tax-exempt foundations. Reece, who said the inquiry was designed to find if foundations are socialist dominated, ended public sessions before the foundations were permitted to testify in their own behalf. Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D., Ohio), who protested committee decisions, has called for an investigation of "Right-wing" foundations. (Copyright 1954, Congressional Quarterly)

Widow Of Jap Fisherman Gets Check From U. S.

TOKYO, Saturday, Sept. 25 (AP)—The United States yesterday sent a check and a note of regret to the widow of a Japanese fisherman killed accidentally in the U. S. H-bomb test, but resentment among the Japanese still ran high.

The widow of 40-year-old Aikichi Kuboyama received a check for $2,700 from U. S. Ambassador John M. Allison with a note saying: "While no sum of money can compensate for your loss it is the desire of the government of the United States that something be done to make life easier for you and your children in the future."

Japanese newspapers and radio stations blamed the United States for Kuboyama's death Thursday. Japanese doctors said he died of radiation sickness. U. S. doctors thought other factors might be involved.

Kuboyama was one of 23 fishermen aboard the Lucky Dragon when radioactive ashes from an H-bomb blast showered over them off Bikini March 1. The other fishermen still are under treatment.

About 1,000 members of the powerful General Council of Trade Unions paraded before Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's residence yesterday bearing placards demanding a stronger stand in negotiations with the United States over H-bomb damages.

Kyodo News Service said 30 residents of Yuzuru, home port of the Lucky Dragon, planned a demonstration today before the U. S. Embassy demanding quick compensation and a ban on H-bomb tests. Some families of Lucky Dragon crewmen were scheduled to take part.

Other demonstrations were reported in the making. The United States has offered one million dollars in damages for the Lucky Dragon incident but the Japanese government is reported holding out for several million.

One chief point of criticism from the Japanese is the charge that the United States has shown too little concern for the 23 fishermen.

There also is a hostility in Japan against atomic weapons since Hiroshima and Nagasaki were hit by A-bombs during the war. This view was summed up by Asahi, Japan's largest newspaper, this way:

"The feeling of the Japanese people is not such petty sentimentalism as anti-Americanism. The Japanese are outraged at the abuse of the worst enemy of mankind, which is atomic weapons."

Breadfruit trees were brought to Jamaica by Capt. Bligh, of "Mutiny on the Bounty" fame.

Federal Control Of Milksheds In Mississippi Area

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Agriculture Department will take over the regulation of the marketing of milk in the central Mississippi area late this year.

Under a federal order, the department will set minimum prices which distributors will be required to pay dairymen supplying the area. The department, however, will not determine retail prices.

The purpose of the order is to stabilize prices and supplies of milk in the interest of both dairymen and consumers.

The marketing area covers these counties: Claiborne, Copiah, Covington, Forest, Hinds, Jasper, Jefferson Davis, Jones, Madison, Marion, Perry, Rankin, Scott, Simpson, Smith, Walthall, Warren, Wayne and the northern portion of Lamar and the eastern portion of Lawrence County. Principal cities in the area are:

Jackson, Hattiesburg, Vicksburg and Laurel.

The order was approved by more than 81 per cent of the dairymen voting in a referendum Sept. 21.

This brought to 54 the number of marketing areas in the country covered by milk marketing orders.

She had been almost completely deaf—able to hear faintly only the loudest sounds—since the age of 10.

Fisher sang "Anytime" to her from Grossinger's camp in New York where he was attending an outing of song writers and music publishers.

"Are you going to marry Debbie Reynolds?" the girl asked him. "Oh, I don't know," Fisher replied. "I think maybe I'll wait for you."

Presbyterians Fighting Merger Claim Progress

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 24 (AP)—The Association for the Preservation and Continuation of the Southern Presbyterian Church claims six victories in its fight to defeat the proposed three-way merger of major Presbyterian bodies in America.

Cited by the association's secretary, the Rev. Henry B. Dendy of Weaverville, were votes by six presbyteries against union.

Most of the presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. (Southern), of which the six voting are members, will not vote until after Jan. 1.

Dendy said Central Mississippi had rejected union, 64-3. The other presbyteries which he said had also rejected the plan, with the vote by which they did it:

East Alabama, 57-10; Tuscaloosa Ala. 42-6; Congaree Columbia, S. C., 43-5; Pee Dee Florence, S. C. 51-10; and Florida Pensacola, 57-7.

A total of 22 presbyteries are required to defeat participation by the Southern church in the union with the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., Northern and the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

All three churches have submitted the issue to their respective presbyteries for a vote.

Defeat of the plan of union by any one of the three churches would kill the present plan for all three.

Obituaries

MRS. W. A. JOHNSTON
Mrs. W. A. Johnston, 68, of Rayville, passed away at her residence early Friday morning.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the First Baptist Church in Rayville with Rev. O. G. Cannon of Transylvania and Rev. H. R. Herrington of Rayville officiating.

Interment, under direction of Hall Funeral Home, will be in the Masonic cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Wilford Johnston; two sons, Foster and Arnold, both of Rayville; one daughter, Mrs. A. R. Jones, Rayville; one sister, Mrs. Zula Donald, Carthage, Miss.; one brother, Albert A. Caldwell, Sturgis, Miss. The body will remain at the home until time for funeral services.

Pallbearers will be G. O. Jones, Ford Ware, Bob Chapman, Marion Gallman, Archie Brown and T. H. Pittman.

NEW DISEASE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—"Murder of the English language" was the verdict of J. Robert Creager after taking a telephone call at the police record room.

The caller said, "There's a dog out here and you'd better send police to get it right away."

"What's the matter with the dog?" Creager asked.

"It's foaming at the mouth and carrying on like it's crazy. I think it's got the rabid."

The fastest man can travel immersed in water is 2.62 miles per hour.

Cleanup Job At Riot-Torn Prison Will Take Weeks

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 24 (AP)—Missouri Penitentiary officials struggled today with the multimillion dollar hangover from a Wednesday night riot that killed 4, injured more than 30 and destroyed 7 buildings.

An uneasy peace hung over the 118-year-old prison. Fearful lest new trouble develop, a heavy force of armed patrolmen, police and National Guardsmen stayed on duty around the clock.

Damage was estimated at three to five million dollars but Thomas E. Whitecotton, correction director, said that was "just a rough guess."

The riot broke out Wednesday night in a maximum security cell block where invincible prisoners were kept. One of them knuckled out an unwary guard, stole his keys and liberated cellmates.

Then they rampaged through the prison, burning, beating and killing in a frenzy of destruction. They didn't get out of the prison's inner yard and none got over the outside walls. Only about 300 of the prison's 3,300 inmates were involved in the rioting.

Whitecotton said disciplinary action would have to await a thorough investigation. He indicated he knew some of the ring leaders but declined to name them.

He hinted that murder charges might be filed in the deaths of two convicts who were killed by the rioters.

Regular "housekeeping" details at the prison and the governor's executive mansion went back to work today. Meals got back on a regular basis but feeding the men was a problem because only one of the three dining halls was usable.

The cleanup job is expected to take several months, depending on how much can be salvaged.

Whitecotton said all the machinery in the clothing and license tag factories is just twisted, melted metal. He said efforts will be made to restore some clothing and license plate production as soon as new machinery can be obtained.

Vertical Take-Off Plane Is Flown

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 24 (AP)—The Bell Aircraft Corp. has successfully test-flown its experimental, jet-propelled Vertical Take-Off aircraft, the Buffalo Evening News said today.

Neither the company nor the Air Force, sponsor of Bell's VTO program, has revealed any details on the craft. But it is believed to look much like a conventional jet airplane, except for multiple jet engines attached to the wing.

The Evening News said the Bell VTO plane is of a more practical design than Britain's jet-powered "Flying Bedstead," first pictures of which were released yesterday in London. The British craft was described as strictly a test vehicle to examine basic control problems.

BUDDHIST BEAUTIES

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—They are going to have a "Miss Asia" beauty contest here in 1957 but those in Atlantic City and Long Beach were never like this one.

The Bangkok Tribune says the contest will be part of a celebration marking the 2,500th year of the Buddhist era.

So all entries must be Buddhist. And they have to wear their national costumes—not bathing suits.

Widow Of Jap Fisherman Gets Check From U. S.

TOKYO, Saturday, Sept. 25 (AP)—The United States yesterday sent a check and a note of regret to the widow of a Japanese fisherman burned accidentally in the U. S. H-bomb test, but resentment among the Japanese still ran high.

The widow of 40-year-old Aikichi Kuboyama received a check for $2,700 from U.S. Ambassador John M. Allison with a note saying:

"While no sum of money can compensate for your loss it is the desire of the government of the United States that something be done to make life easier for you and your children in the future."

Japanese newspapers and radio stations blamed the United States for Kuboyama's death Thursday. Japanese doctors said he died of radiation sickness. U.S. doctors thought other factors might be involved.

Kuboyama was one of 23 fishermen aboard the Lucky Dragon when radioactive ashes from an H-bomb blast showered over them off Bikini March 1. The other fishermen still are under treatment.

About 1,000 members of the powerful General Council of Trade Unions paraded before Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's residence yesterday bearing placards demanding a stronger stand in negotiations with the United States over H-bomb damages.

Kyodo News Service said 30 residents of Yiazu, home port of the Lucky Dragon, planned a demonstration today before the U. S. Embassy demanding quick compensation and a ban on H-bomb tests. Some families of Lucky Dragon crewmen were scheduled to take part.

Other demonstrations were reported in the making.

The United States has offered one million dollars in damages for the Lucky Dragon incident but the Japanese government is reported holding out for several million.

One chief point of criticism from the Japanese is the charge that the United States has shown too little concern for the 23 fishermen.

There also is a hostility in Japan against atomic weapons since Hiroshima and Nagasaki were hit by A-bombs during the war. This view was summed up by Asahi, Japan's largest newspaper, this way:

"The feeling of the Japanese people is not such petty sentimentalism as anti-Americanism. The Japanese are outraged at the abuse of the worst enemy of mankind, which is atomic weapons. . . ."

Breadfruit trees were brought to Jamaica by Capt. Bligh of "Mutiny on the Bounty" fame.

Federal Control Of Milksheds In Mississippi Area

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Agriculture Department will take over the regulation of the marketing of milk in the central Mississippi area late this year.

Under a federal order, the department will set minimum prices which distributors will be required to pay dairymen supplying the area. The department, however, will not determine retail prices.

The purpose of the order is to stabilize prices and supplies of milk in the interest of both dairymen and consumers.

The marketing area covers these counties: Claiborne, Copiah, Covington, Forest, Hinds, Jasper, Jefferson Davis, Jones, Madison, Marion, Perry, Rankin, Scott, Simpson, Smith, Walthall, Warren, Wayne and the northern portion of Lamar and the eastern portion of Lawrence County. Principal cities in the area are:

Jackson, Hattiesburg, Vicksburg, and Laurel.

The order was approved by more than 81 per cent of the dairymen voting in a referendum Sept. 21.

This brought to 54 the number of marketing areas in the country covered by milk marketing orders.

Deaf 10 Years, Girl Now Hears

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24 (AP)—After 10 years of deafness, pretty Adelina Aguilar has heard the two sounds she most wanted to hear.

She has talked by telephone with her fiancé, a soldier in Arizona. And she has heard her favorite singer, Eddie Fisher, croon to her via long distance from New York.

Miss Aguilar, 20, of Bisbee, Ariz., came here for an operation which opened a "window" past a bony growth blocking her hearing.

She had been almost completely deaf — able to hear faintly only the loudest sounds — since the age of 10.

"It was wonderful," she said today of her two phone conversations, arranged by the Los Angeles Mirror.

Fisher sang "Anytime" to her from Grossinger's camp in New York where he was attending an outing of song writers and music publishers.

Presbyterians Fighting Merger Claim Progress

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 24 (AP)—The Association for the Preservation and Continuation of the Southern Presbyterian Church claims six victories in its fight to defeat the proposed three-way merger of major Presbyterian bodies in America.

Cited by the association's secretary, the Rev. Henry B. Dendy of Weaverville, were votes by six presbyteries against union.

Most of the presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. (Southern), of which the six voting are members, will not vote until after Jan. 1.

Dendy said Central Mississippi had rejected union, 64-9. The other presbyteries which he said had also rejected the plan, with the vote by which they did it:

East Alabama, 55-10; Tuscaloosa Ala. 42-6; Congaree Columbia, S.C., 43-5; Pee Dee Florence, S.C. 51-10; and Florida Pensacola, 57-7.

A total of 22 presbyteries are required to defeat participation by the Southern church in the union with the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. Northern and the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

All three churches have submitted the issue to their respective presbyteries for a vote.

Defeat of the plan of union by any one of the three churches would kill the present plan for all three.

Current Literature Club Meets With Mrs. Whitfield

Members of the Current Literature Club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. W. A. Whitfield Jr.

The president, Mrs. E. A. Porter Jr., presided over the meeting. A special meeting was planned for October 8 at 9 a. m. in the home of Mrs. R. B. Bailey.

The program was turned over to Mrs. E. A. Hodge who spoke on the topic "Teamwork for Success." Her speech dealt with the effect a wife has on her husband's success in business. Following this introduction to the topic, Mrs. Maz Watts gave a review of How To Help Your Husband Get Ahead, by Mrs. Dale Carnegie.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Whitfield assisted by her mother, Mrs. Allen served tea to the following members: Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr., Mrs. G. C.

DODSON — The WCTU met at the Methodist Church last week with Mrs. S. F. Bennett in charge of the program.

It was pointed out that the next meeting will be held the third Tuesday in October at the Baptist Church.

P-TA Council Has School Of Instructions

Fifteen schools were represented at the annual Ousachita Parish P. T. A. Council School of Instructions held September 22 in the First Methodist Church of West Monroe.

Millsaps school won the award for having the most members present. Schools represented were Bernice, Calhoun, Claiborne, Crosey, Farmerville, Georgia Tucker, Highland, Lenwil, Logtown, Millsaps, Mitchell, Selman, A. L. Smith, Swartz, and Woodlawn.

Mrs. M. C. Woolley registered each member, and at the general assembly, the invocation was given by Rev. W. D. Milton and then Mrs. Alex Winn led the group in community singing. Guests and instructors were introduced by Mrs. G. W. Jones, after which time classes were held.

The purpose of these classes is to instruct incoming officers in their duties for the new year. Instructors and their classes were: Mrs. F. D. Luton—Presidents, Vice Presidents & Goals; Mrs. Marie Wilhite—Treasurer, Budget and Finance; Mrs. M. C. Woolley—P.T.A. Publications; Mrs. G. W. Jones—Secretaries and Parliamentary Procedure; Mrs. George Varino—Program Planning and Membership; Mrs. Yvonne Herron—Publicity; Mrs. Stanley Hodges & Mrs. Chester DeCuir—Scrapbooks.

After the classes reassembled, Mrs. Stanley Hodges delivered a short lecture on the importance of voting and Mrs. B. F. Jackson urged that each unit send a representative to the Civil Defense meeting to be held September 30 at 10 a. m. at 400 Stone Avenue.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Little Fears Are Bonds Robbing You Of Youth

Our circulation, digestion, glandular system and respiration, are all affected by our emotions. When they are unhappy it does just the opposite. Fear is probably one of the most damaging of emotions. When it is extremely strong and sudden our knees actually give way under us.

Yet many people live in a constant haze of fear. They are haunted by all sorts of small fears. They are afraid to swim, afraid of what people think of them. They live in fear of another war, fear growing older, are afraid to start any new venture or learn any new sport or skill, afraid to speak in public, afraid the laundry will be late or the cake won't turn out right.

Dozens of other dreads beset them. Self-consciousness, jealousy and timidity are also forms of fear.

Lines In Our Faces

These small fears can put lines in our faces and poison in our bodies. They take the sparkle from personality and the fun out of life. It is exceedingly important that we rid ourselves of as many of them as possible, that we adopt a more positive outlook as a habit. We cannot change our attitude overnight but we can work on it by attacking a few of our small fears and conquering them one by one.

It is surprising how much zest and self-respect you will experience if you even overcome one little fear. Suddenly you feel a sense of release and youthful happiness. I have seen this happen even when a middle-aged woman, who had always been afraid of the water, learned to swim or to dive.

Make a list of your small fears, of the things you would like to do but are afraid to do or timid about trying, and wrestle with them, one at a time. If you do this you will find yourself adding new interests to your daily life and experiencing new energy. (Released by The Register and Tribune Syndicate, 19545)

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm 19 and have been going with Boyd for a year. Recently his parents gave a party for his twentieth birthday and I was invited. All evening he showed so much affection for and attention to his mother that I was embarrassed. I felt neglected and I'm sure our friends noticed how he ignored me. I have observed also that if his family has something special to do he'll go with them in preference to spending the evening with me. Will he change after marriage, or do you think I am unreasonable?

Harriet

FILIAL DEVOTION

ANSWER: A boy's affection for his mother certainly is no cause for you to be embarrassed; after all, it can be assumed that she went to considerable trouble to have the party. Therefore a proper show of appreciation isn't at all out of order. Whether you are confronted with a young man who has a deep regard for his parents or one who will never outgrow the apron strings is a matter only you can decide. Your short letter didn't indicate much except that you like to be the center of attention.

DEAR MISS DIX: My sister is overwrought to my husband and tries to seek his company at every opportunity. He avoids her as much as possible, as he knows the kind of person she is. As she is a member of my family, I am obliged to be restrained, but find her conduct most annoying.

Susan

ANSWER: Your best course is to make a joke of the whole thing. A little kidding can do much more than a heavy dose of indignation. Since your husband also is annoyed at her demonstrations he can join you in discouraging the girl's attentions.

DEAR MISS DIX: We're a group of office workers with a problem. Due to illness, I took a leave of absence and a young girl was hired as temporary replacement. Since my return to work last month she has continued to come in every day, just sitting around, getting in everyone's way and asking a million questions. What can we do about her?

Mary

ANSWER: Surely an appeal to your boss could keep her away, unless, as seems likely, she's a relative of his. In any case, you definitely should tell the powers that be that her presence is interfering with the efficient operation of the office.

DEAR MISS DIX: In a recent letter you told a young man that his fiancée was being unfair and childish in her treatment of him. Do you take into consideration that there may be reasons for her actions? Perhaps she feels she's unworthy of him, or her health may be impaired, or she may have a mental difficulty. Surely if she's disturbed or nervous, and doesn't want to burden the one she loves with her troubles, she doesn't deserve to be called childish.

Norah

ANSWER: Since I am vouchsafed only one side of a story, and since even that is usually compressed, in a quite short letter, my advice or opinions must necessarily be based on whatever conclusions I can draw from the facts presented. Reading as much into any letter as you outline would certainly be impossible. Most young girls are of good physical and mental health. Many of them do act selfishly toward their young men. This is no crime — just an attitude that the man must learn to recognize. Your concern is laudable, but as much trouble can be caused by making excuses for people as by being too harsh with them.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Little Fears Are Bonds Robbing You Of Youth

Our circulation, digestion, glandular system and respiration, are all affected by our emotions. When they are unhappy it does just the opposite. Fear is probably one of the most damaging emotions. When it is extremely strong and sudden our knees actually give way under us.

Yet many people live in a constant haze of fear. They are haunted by all sorts of small fears. They are afraid to swim, afraid of what people think of them. They live in fear of another war, fear growing older, are afraid to start any new venture or learn any new sport or skill, afraid to speak in public, afraid the laundry will be late or the cake won't turn out right.

Dozens of other dreads beset them. Self-consciousness, jealousy and timidity are also forms of fear.

Lines In Our Faces

These small fears can put lines in our faces and poison in our bodies. They take the sparkle

from personality and the fun out of life. It is exceedingly important that we rid ourselves of as many of them as possible; that we adopt a more positive outlook as a habit. We cannot change our attitude overnight but we can work on it by attacking a few of our small fears and conquering them one by one.

It is surprising how much zest and self-respect you will experience if you even overcome one little fear. Suddenly you feel a sense of release and youthful happiness. I have seen this happen even when a middle-aged woman, who had always been afraid of the water, learned to swim or to dive.

Make a list of your small fears, of the things you would like to do but are afraid to do or timid about trying, and wrestle with them, one at a time. If you do this you will find yourself adding new interests to your daily life and experiencing new energy.

DEAR MISS DIX: I'm 19 and have been going with Boyd for a year. Recently his parents gave a party for his twentieth birthday and I was invited. All evening he showed so much affection for and attention to his mother that I was embarrassed. I felt neglected and I'm sure our friends noticed how he ignored me. I have observed also that if his family has something special to do he'll go with them in preference to spending the evening with me. Will he change after marriage, or do you think I am unreasonable?

Harriet

Electric Co-Op Holds Its First Formal Meeting

FARMERVILLE, Sept. 24 (Special)—The newly elected board of directors of Claiborne Electric Co-operative, Inc., met at the American Legion hall in Farmerville recently for the first formal meeting of the board since it took over the affairs of the Co-op at Homer on September 11. Approximately 100 visitors were in attendance.

Several committees met with the board, including those from Ouachita and Lincoln parishes.

The meeting got under way at 10 a.m. with Floyd B. Fincher, chairman of the board of directors, presiding. He immediately informed the group of policies the new board intends to pursue.

N. B. James, spokesman for the various committees present, informed the board of the purpose of the group meeting with them, pointing out the dissatisfaction of many members of the Co-Op in Farmerville, Marion, and throughout this and other parishes with the manner in which the election at Homer was held, and requested the board to agree for a division in the Claiborne Electric Co-op, thereby setting up another Co-op, made up of the parishes of Union, Lincoln and Ouachita.

Since it had previously been indicated that the town of Farmerville was not wanted and shouldn't be in the Co-op, James stressed the fact that there was no other alternative, but to ask for a division and requesting the membership elsewhere in Union, Lincoln and Ouachita parishes to go along with Farmerville on the proposition.

Fincher responded with the statement that so long as this board is in authority it will resist any attempt to split or dissolve the Co-op.

James called on several for remarks, including Mayor Gurvis Post, of Marion, Senator James P. Hinton, Representative T. T. Fields, Mayor R. L. Turnage of Farmerville, John Ramsey and others, all of whom were of one accord with reference to dividing the Co-op.

FERRIDAY, Sept. 24—(Special)—Charles Webb was elected president of the Ferriday High school senior 4-H club for the 1954-55 school season.

Other new officers elected by the club were as follows: Patsy Huff, vice-president; Gerald Webb, secretary; Joyce Wade, reporter; Penny Dean and Carol Ann Burris, song leaders.

Fiscal Officers Given Advice On Credit Of Cities

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 24—A research specialist from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation told Louisiana mayors and fiscal officers today how to improve their municipal credit ratings.

R. E. Hengren of Washington, D.C., warned that prospective buyers of municipal securities have neither the time nor the money to make an exhaustive survey of a city's credit rating.

To get the best possible impression, he suggested keeping clear, simple records, preparation of informative reports on community finances and sticking to the accepted methods of taxation to service securities.

Investment people don't like surprises, Hengren said.

He addressed the opening session of a finance conference for municipal officials sponsored by the Louisiana Municipal Association and Louisiana State University.

Dior Seeks To Raise Bosoms By Full Two Inches

PARIS, Sept. 24—UP—Paris fashion designer Christian Dior Friday announced a "new look" in women's foundations which will raise mldady's bosom two inches. "It will transform women," he promised.

He said his fashion house will market a combination brassiere-corset in rubber and fabric in November. It will go with his flat "H-line" for winter clothes.

"The point is to adapt women's lines to the new fashion," Dior said. "And that is why we are entering this new field to remodel the woman's body according to the latest fashion."

Dior's aides explained where the new bustline should be. "The main idea is to bring the bosom — which used to center some 25 to 26 centimeters (9.8 to 10.2 inches) from the shoulder — up to 19 to 21 centimeters (7.4 to 8.2)," they said.

While the technical details of the garment will be a secret until November, Dior disclosed it will be made of detachable parts so that the wearer will be able to select the piece that goes best with her afternoon gown, cocktail or evening dress.

He told newsmen that the Dior mannequins, famous for their slim waists and small busts, tried it and liked it.

Cost Of Living Drops Slightly During August

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—UP—The cost of living dropped two-tenths of one per cent last month, chiefly because of lower food prices and "substantial" cuts in prices of radios and TV sets, the government reported Friday.

Price reductions also were reported for clothing, household linens, furniture, new automobiles, and gasoline. They were offset partly by hikes in auto repairs, transportation, fuel, medical fees and children's shoes.

The decline was not big enough to cause a drop in the pay of 1 million railroad workers, whose wages are tied to the price index.

The bureau reported a six-tenths of one per cent drop in food costs, which make up about 30 per cent of its index. Acting Bureau Commissioner Arnyess Joy Wickens said the cuts marked a "back to normal" price movement that followed the summer drought.

There were "substantial" price reductions in fresh fruits and vegetables and meat and eggs. All cuts of meat shared in the drop, reflecting increased marketing of livestock. Average coffee prices rose slightly, although cuts were reported in about half the cities surveyed. Bread rose one and one-half per cent.

The index covers the changes in the cost of market basket items bought by most city families.

Mrs. Wickens said price cuts in television sets and radios showed up in department stores and other large furniture and appliance stores. She said these establishments apparently were meeting competition from such outlets as "discount" houses.

Legislature In Mississippi Ends Special Session

JACKSON, Miss. —UP— Mississippi's third legislative session within less than a year adjourned today, leaving a constitutional amendment to permit abolition of public schools up to the people.

Ratifiers of three weeks work were disposed of in brief morning sessions. Officially, the House voted to adjourn until Monday at 2 p.m. but members agreed not to meet back. Since the adjournment is Thursday at 6 p.m. The overtime will give Gov. Hugh White time to sign bills.

A Senate resolution calling for an investigation of the state welfare department failed to gain House approval when members again refused to consider it.

Lightning caused 8 per cent of the fires occurring in the United States during the past 10 years.

Fiscal Officers Given Advice On Credit Of Cities

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 24 (AP)—A research specialist from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation told Louisiana mayors and fiscal officers today how to improve their municipal credit ratings.

R. E. Hengren of Washington, D.C., warned that prospective buyers of municipal securities have neither the time nor the money to make an exhaustive survey of a city's credit rating.

To get the best possible impression, he suggested keeping clear, simple records, preparation of informative reports on community finances and sticking to the accepted methods of taxation to service securities.

Investment people don't like surprises, Hengren said.

He addressed the opening session of a finance conference for municipal officials sponsored by the Louisiana Municipal Association and Louisiana State University.

Dior Seeks To Raise Bosoms By Full Two Inches

PARIS, Sept. 24—UP—Paris fashion designer Christian Dior Friday announced a "new look" in women's foundations which will raise milady's bosom two inches. "It will transform women," he promised.

He said his fashion house will market a combination brassiere-girdle in rubber and fabric in November. It will go with his flat "H-line" for winter clothes.

"The point is to adapt women's lines to the new fashion," Dior

Dior aides explained where the new bustline should be. "The main idea is to bring the bosom — which used to center some 25 to 26 centimeters (9.8 to 10.2 inches) from the shoulder — up to 19 to 21 centimeters (7.4 to 8.2)," they said.

While the technical details of the garment will be a secret until November, Dior disclosed it will be made of detachable parts so that the wearer will be able to select the piece that goes best with her afternoon gown, cocktail or evening dress.

He told newsmen that the Dior mannequins, famous for their slim waists and small busts, tried it and liked it.

Cost Of Living Drops Slightly During August

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—UP—The cost of living dropped two-tenths of one per cent last month, chiefly because of lower food prices and "substantial" cuts in prices of radios and TV sets, the government reported Friday.

Price reductions also were reported for clothing, household linens, furniture, new automobiles, and gasoline. They were offset partly by hikes in auto repairs, transportation fares, fuel, medical fees and children's shoes.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the drop from mid-July to mid-August left the consumer price index at 115 per cent of average 1947-49 prices. It was the same as in August, 1953, but 13 per cent above the level of June, 1950.

The decline was not big enough to cause a drop in the pay of 1 million railroad workers, whose wages are tied to the price index.

The bureau reported a six-tenths of one per cent drop in food costs, which make up about 30 per cent of its index. Acting Bureau Commissioner Arnyess Joy Wickens said the cuts marked a "back to normal" price movement that followed the summer drought.

There were "substantial" price reductions in fresh fruits and vegetables and meat and eggs. All cuts of meat shared in the drop, reflecting increased marketing of livestock. Average coffee prices rose slightly, although cuts were reported in about half the cities surveyed. Bread rose one and one-half per cent.

The index covers the changes in the cost of market basket items bought by most city families.

Mrs. Wickens said price cuts in television sets and radios showed up in department stores and other large furniture and appliance stores. She said these establishments apparently were meeting competition from such outlets as "discount" houses.

Legislature In Mississippi Ends Special Session

JACKSON, Miss., —UP— Mississippi's third legislative session within less than a year adjourned today, leaving a constitutional amendment to permit abolition of public schools up to the people.

Ratifiers of three weeks work were disposed of in brief morning sessions. Officially, the House voted to adjourn until Monday at 2 p.m. but members agreed not to meet back. Since the adjournment is Thursday at 6 p.m. The overtime will give Gov. Hugh White time to sign bills.

A Senate resolution calling for an investigation of the state welfare department failed to gain House approval when members again refused to consider it.

A hassle over the resolution prevented the special session, which began Sept. 7 from adjourning last night.

Lightning caused 8 per cent of the fires occurring in the United States during the past 10 years.

3 Negroes Sue For Admittance To White School

By RAY FLACK
United Press Staff Correspondent

Three negroes asked a federal injunction Friday which would permit them to enter the El Reno, Okla., Junior College, and at San Antonio, Tex., a federal judge refused to order the University of Texas to accept a Negro student.

The segregation cases were expected. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People through its chief counsel, Thurgood Marshall of New York City, promised at the groups recent national convention in Dallas it would fight to break down segregation laws.

The Supreme Court ruled last May that segregation must end in publicly-supported schools but has delayed until December arguments on how the edict should be carried out.

Four Negro lawyers including Marshall filed a petition in federal court at Oklahoma City asking the court to grant admission to the El Reno school of U. S. Grant, Raymond Johnson and Joshua White, all of El Reno.

Paul R. Taylor, superintendent of the El Reno Junior College and the city's public school system, said he is "willing to follow any ruling that will be set up on the matter."

He refused the three Negroes admission under terms of Oklahoma law which says public schools shall operate upon "a complete plan of separation between the white and colored races with impartial facilities for both races."

The Negroes petition said this policy denies them constitutional rights because El Reno Junior College is the only public junior college offering courses they wish to take.

The case of San Antonio before Federal Judge Ben H. Rice Jr., concerned John Winfred Walker, 17, one of six Negro students accepted for admission as undergraduates at the University of Texas but later rejected.

Judge Rice denied a motion for a temporary restraining order and will try the case on its own merits in Austin at a later date, probably during the January term of court. The suit alleges the university barred Walker solely because he is a Negro.

Kennon Won't Be Among Guests At Demo Dinner

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 24 (AP)—Camille Gravel, national Democratic committeeman from Louisiana, said today he was "amused but not too surprised" over Gov. Kennon's announcement that he would be unable to attend a Democratic dinner in New Orleans "because of a previous engagement."

Gravel said no date has been set for the dinner in December and added that "it was rather strange that Gov. Kennon would have a previous engagement on a date not yet selected and, therefore, would be unable to attend a banquet to which he has not yet been invited."

Gravel said it would be about two or three weeks before a definite date would be set. He said efforts are being made to make the New Orleans banquet "a Southern regional meeting of the Democratic party."

Gravel said Kennon made the announcement through a spokesman.

Probe Of Blast Fatal To 32 Is Now Under Way

BITBURG, Germany, Sept. 24 (AP)—An investigation was begun Friday to determine if the disastrous explosion of an American jet aviation fuel tank here called for new safety measures in the Allies' Europe-wide pipeline and fuel storage system.

West German officials announced that 32 persons were killed in Thursday's explosion, three persons still were missing and 66 were injured, five of them critically. The explosion occurred when French engineers, testing a new fire-fighting system, set a fire atop an underground fuel tank.

Local American and French investigations were under way. French High Commissioner Andre Francois-Poncet flew here from Bonn for an on-the-scene survey.

No Americans were injured in the blast which occurred near a U.S. guided missile base where maintenance of the fuel tanks was turned over to French engineers 10 days ago.

Given 3 Years For Buying Car With Hot Check

MERIDIAN, Miss., Sept. 24 (AP)—A 22-year-old Washington State man pleaded guilty to a stolen vehicle charge and was sentenced to three years in jail by U. S. District Judge Eldney C. Mize.

Robert Hauberg, U.S. attorney for the Southern district of Mississippi, identified the man as Marvin Trent Reed and said he was sentenced yesterday.

But, Hauberg said, Reed was held in Meridian to await results of an inquiry from California concerning another stolen vehicle.

Reed told Judge Mize he wanted to "wipe my slate clean" and told of several other state charges pending against him.

He was sentenced on a charge of buying a car with a worthless check in 1952 and driving the car from Texas to New Mexico, a violation of federal law.

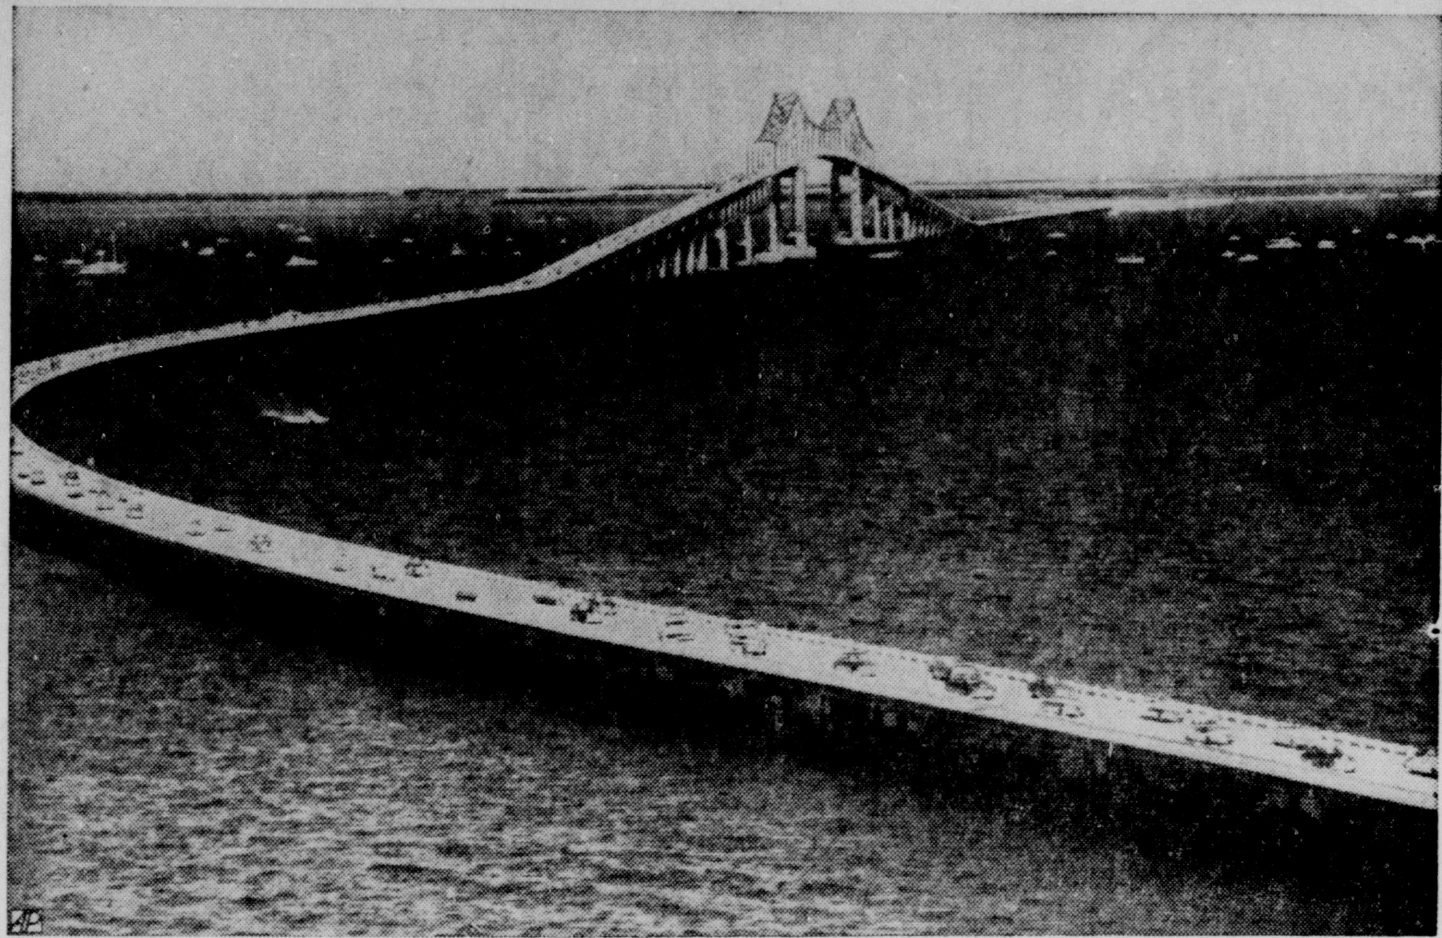

He was arrested earlier this month in Magee, 40 miles southeast of Jackson in Simpson County, where he operated a television repair service under the name of Jack Fuller.

FBI agents who arrested him said he listed his home as Port Angeles, Wash., and said he had a wife and three children, the youngest just a few days old.

DENY APPEAL

BATON ROUGE —UP— The state civil service commission yesterday denied the appeal of Mrs. Eloise B. Jarrell, Minden, inspector for the state board of control of cosmetic therapy, that she was underpaid for several months last year and this year. The board said it had no jurisdiction in such financial matters and that Mrs. Jarrell appealed after the deadline, 30 days after the last underpayment. She said she was paid only $150 a month and should have received $220.

No Americans were injured in the blast which occurred near a U.S. guided missile base where maintenance of the fuel tanks was turned over to French engineers 10 days ago.

The North Atlantic council headquarters in Paris said NATO pipeline experts would assist investigators to find out why the safety test backfired.

A NATO spokesman said the alliance was concerned because of the international network of pipes and fuel dumps stretching along the West's 4,000-mile perimeter from the North Sea to Turkey's frontier with Russia. Other dumps are being built in North Africa.

The blast occurred at 4 p.m. in an underground tank farm five miles south of the Air Force materiel base near the Luxembourg and Belgian borders. The tanks are reported to hold about 8 million gallons of volatile jet fuel.

Hauls Wife's Body Through 3 States

DETROIT (AP)—Police said a 44-year-old carpenter today admitted he drove around three states with his wife's body in the trunk of his car after she was killed Aug. 8.

However, they said Claude W. Morse denied slaying her. He said she was fatally injured when she plunged from their moving auto during a struggle on a highway near Detroit.

Morse was held for investigation of murder when he returned to Detroit this week from a trip to Tennessee with his 15-year-old bride. Neighbors who noticed the first wife's absence tipped police.

Authorities said Morse originally told them his first wife, 200-pound Verlie, 47, had wandered away from him while the two were driving to Tennessee. He said he remarried without a divorce because a lawyer told him technical flaws in his marriage license nullified his marriage.

Officers said Morse told them after his wife fell from the car he lifted the unconscious woman into the front seat of the car, drove home and changed his bloody clothes, and started off again for Lafayette with the body in the trunk.

Police quoted him as saying he left the body in the trunk while he visited his brother in Indiana, and still did not remove it while driving through Kentucky.

He told police he did not remember taking the body from the trunk, but remembered some road excavations in Kentucky and that he "might" have put the body into one of them.

was found Aug. 22, half buried in a ditch along U. S. 25 between London and Livingston, Ky.

Arkansas state police, Madison County officers and the FBI also were searching wells today at Huntsville, Ark., on an abandoned farm on another tip the woman's body was buried there.

Officers in that area said Detroit police had contacted them and quoted Morse as saying he dropped a body in a well on the Becca-Voce farm. Detroit officers also quoted Morse as saying that slaying happened about a year ago.

Hauls Wife's Body Through 3 States

DETROIT (AP)—Police said a 44-year-old carpenter today admitted he drove around three states with his wife's body in the trunk of his car after she was killed Aug. 8.

However, they said Claude W. Morse denied slaying her. He said she was fatally injured when she plunged from their moving auto during a struggle on a highway near Detroit.

Morse was held for investigation of murder when he returned to Detroit this week from a trip to Tennessee with his 14-year-old bride. Neighbors who noticed the first wife's absence tipped police.

Authorities said Morse originally told them his first wife, 200-pound Verlie, 47, had wandered away from him while the two were driving to Tennessee. He said he remarried without a divorce because a lawyer told him technical flaws in his marriage license nullified his marriage.

In today's new account, police quoted Morse as saying he and Verlie left their home Aug. 8 to drive to his brother's home at Lafayette, Ind.

Officers said Morse told them after his wife fell from the car he lifted the unconscious woman into the front seat of the car, drove home and changed his bloody clothes, and started off again for Lafayette with the body in the trunk.

Police quoted him as saying he left the body in the trunk while he visited his brother in Indiana, and still did not remove it while driving through Kentucky.

He told police he did not remember taking the body from the trunk, but remembered some road excavations in Kentucky and that he "might" have put the body into one of them.

An unidentified woman's body believed to be that of Mrs. Morse was found Aug. 22, half buried in a ditch along U. S. 25 between London and Livingston, Ky.

Arkansas state police, Madison County officers and the FBI also were searching wells today at Huntsville, Ark., on an abandoned farm on another tip the woman's body was buried there.

Officers in that area said Detroit police had contacted them and quoted Morse as saying he dropped a body in a well on the Becca-Voce farm. Detroit officers also quoted Morse as saying that slaying happened about a year ago.

English Vicar's Blast At Behavior Of GI's In Germany Brings Reply

MUNICH, Germany, Sept. 24 (AP)—A U.S. Army chaplain tonight rejected the contention of an English vicar that young American soldiers are running wild in West Germany. He said the vicar was basing his judgment on less than two percent of the soldier population.

Man's Sentence In Murder Case Is Suspended

Mental Patient Critically Hurt In Long Leap

an article by Rev. Bernard Croft in the London weekly "Church of England Newspaper" that criticized especially the behavior of American soldiers in Munich.

"One side of the picture has been drastically exaggerated," Chaplain Knight, a Baptist, told a news conference arranged by the U.S. Army's Southern Area Command.

"The people the vicar observed would be less than two per cent of the Munich soldier population," said the chaplain. "How does the vicar account for the other 98 per cent which he failed to comment upon?" Knight has been here 34 months.

The Rev. Bernard Croft had said in his article that, "Apparently a GI over there today has to be actually engaged in an affair with knives or he committing rape on the sidewalk to draw any corrective attention."

"The vicar went through the smoky part of the city," retorted Chaplain Knight. "He was out to find something and inasmuch as he was looking for something he found something."

He said it was surprising that the vicar had nothing to say about religious activities provided for American soldiers.

Basic morality, he added, is brought to the attention of the soldiers "in many cases to a greater extent" than at home.

Fontenot Speaks On Complexity Of Louisiana Laws

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 24 (AP)—State revenue collector Rufus Fontenot said tonight thousands of Louisianians can't understand why you can "wager to your heart's content" at New Orleans and Jefferson Parish race tracks, while other areas are denied any games of chance.

The veteran state official, speaking to mayors and city fiscal officers attending a municipal finance conference here, also said he does not believe the people "want Gestapo tactics in the enforcement of laws."

In statewide raids ordered last year by state police Supt. Francis Grevenberg, slot machines were seized and destroyed. Gov. Robert Kennon supported the state police crackdown.

"As bitterly as I am opposed to the encroachment of the federal government on the states," Fontenot said, "I am just as bitterly opposed to the encroachment of the state upon parish rights."

Fontenot said if local elected officials refuse to correct conditions in their parishes, "the people will see to it that conditions are improved or they will remove from office the officials who refuse to follow the wishes of the people."

Louisiana has a complexity of laws, the collector continued, "and it is very difficult for a great majority of the people of our state to understand why certain sections of the state apparently are favored."

"I want to make it crystal clear that I am not in any way opposed to the race track at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans, nor to Magnolia Park in Jefferson Parish. If any other parish in the state wishes to have a race track, I would be heartily in favor of it. But I believe that it should be left to local authorities whether or not these tracks should be established."

There are only two places in Louisiana "where you can wager money and not be considered a criminal," he said, "and that is at the two race tracks."

"Thousands of people in southwest Louisiana, where it is an age-old custom to have church bazaars and where raffles are conducted strictly for church purposes, are not permitted any longer to indulge in those endeavors. Neither civic nor veterans organizations can any longer raise automobiles, conduct bingo games or make money in any way where chances are sold."

State law bans any gambling for business, but wagering at race tracks is legal.

BRADY, Tex., Sept. 24—UP—The defense was refused permission Friday to file a motion for a new sanity trial for Jimmy Shaver, 30, Lackland airman charged with the rape-murder of Chere Jo Horton, 3.

A jury Thursday found Shaver, whose home is Grapeland, Tex., sane at the time of the slaying last July 3 and sane now.

The case was moved here on a change of venue and is being heard before Judge Joe L. Mays. Selection of a jury was under way from a special venire of 120 men of whom 50 remained on the panel as afternoon questioning began. Four of 27 veniremen questioned during the morning were accepted.

Another motion overruled Friday was one seeking a continuance of the case because of the illness of a defense witness, Mrs. E. E. McGhee of San Antonio, mother of Shaver.

She fainted when the jury verdict was returned Thursday. She is now in a hospital here and defense attorney Ben Geeslin said she suffered a heart attack.

Site Is Accepted For Correctional Institute

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Louisiana Board of Institutions today made public its acceptance of a 700-acre site in Beauregard Parish for the proposed Louisiana correctional institute.

Reed Cozart, director of correctional institutions, said citizens of the area donated the property. It is on the Beauregard-Calcasieu border, two miles north of Dequincy.

The 1954 Legislature earmarked 15 million dollars for the new institution which will have about 125 civilian employees.

There are now 877 legal reserve life insurance companies in the United States — nearly twice the number in business at the end of World War II.

Teddy Roosevelt was said to have clocked a lion which traveled 100 yards in 3 seconds.

Slightly more than 13 per cent of the civilian population of Hawaii resides on sugar plantations.

DALLAS, Sept. 24—UP—Leslie Rogers, 44-year-old dry cleaner, pleaded guilty Friday to shooting his ex-wife's new husband, and drew a five-year suspended sentence.

Rogers shot 29-year-old James Thomas Scrivner, an ex-convict, to death last May 30. Rogers testified he had employed Scrivner at the dry-cleaning plant operated by his wife. Later, Rogers and his wife were divorced. She married Scrivner and the two lived in Rogers' former home, while Rogers lived in a hotel and worked at another dry cleaning plant. He drove to his former home and shot Scrivner to death as he and Mrs. Scrivner were playing croquet on the lawn.

Mental Patient Critically Hurt In Long Leap

JACKSON, La., Sept. 24 (AP)—A mental patient was critically injured today when he leaped from a third floor window of the East Louisiana State Hospital here.

Dr. E. M. Robards, superintendent of the mental hospital, identified the patient as Clarence Krohn, 52, who was re-admitted from Jefferson Parish in 1950.

Krohn was in the medical unit with a fractured skull. Dr. Robards said Krohn, who was in an open ward, jumped without warning. It happened so fast, he said, attendants alerted by the shout of another patient were unable to reach Krohn, who pushed through the window screen and jumped.

7 Defendants In Mann Act Cases Await Sentence

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24 (AP)—U. S. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry set next Wednesday for sentencing seven southwest Louisiana men charged with conspiracy to violate the federal Mann act.

Six of the men pleaded guilty here today to conspiracy in operating an eight-state prostitution ring, termed the biggest in years by federal authorities. One man pleaded innocent.

Those pleading guilty included Joseph L. Sonnier, 35, New Iberia, conspiracy and four other charges growing out of the conspiracy; Joseph Blanchard, 30, Rayne, conspiracy and two substitute charges; Richard Lagneaux Jr., 30, Dusan, an inmate at the Louisiana penitentiary, conspiracy and two substitute charges; Burley Duhon, 22, Laplace, conspiracy and one substitute charge; Arphy Sonnier, 21, an inmate at Angola, conspiracy and two substitute charges; and Whitney Boutin, 22, New Iberia, conspiracy.

Wilfred Elias Jr. of Dusan entered a plea of not innocent to the conspiracy charge and Boutin pleaded innocent to two substitute charges.

Site Is Accepted For Correctional Institute

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Louisiana Board of Institutions today made public its acceptance of a 700-acre site in Beauregard Parish for the proposed Louisiana correctional institute.

Reed Cozart, director of correctional institutions, said citizens of the area donated the property. It is on the Beauregard-Calcasieu border, two miles north of Dequincy.

The board, at Cozart's suggestion, for months has planned a new home to house youthful first offenders from Angola and older youths now sent to the Louisiana Training Institute for Boys, Monroe, and the State Industrial School for Colored Youth, near here.

The 1954 Legislature earmarked 1.5 million dollars for the new institution which will have about 125 civilian employees.

Cozart said that Dequincy is only 25 miles from Lake Charles and "it is believed that citizens of Lake Charles and the faculty of McNeese

State College there will make valuable contributions to the institute program.

"The emphasis will be on vocational and industrial training rather than on agricultural pursuits."

There are now 877 legal reserve life insurance companies in the United States — nearly twice the number in business at the end of World War II.

McClure, manager of the Monroe operation for eleven years and vice-president of Dunham-Pugh, said last night the company will operate under the name Contractors Equipment Co., Inc.

McClure and W. L. Ethridge formed a partnership in the purchase of the company. McClure said the company planned "major expansion in operations."

Employing about 25 persons, Dunham-Pugh operates at 3111 Louisville Avenue.

They handle International Harvester industrial machinery and heavy construction equipment.

Wildcat Test South Of Mounds Gets Underway

TALLULAH, Sept. 24 (Special)—Madison parish oil activity stirred the little community of Mounds this week when drilling operations began for the A. B. Leonard No. 1 wildcat test well six and a half miles to the south.

American Liberty Oil Co., Dallas, Tex., and the Webb & Knapp real estate firm of New York City, were reported Friday to have begun operations at the site in section 14, township 15, north, range 14 east. The shaft will be sunk to 11,500 feet.

Meanwhile, lease and royalty trading has been brisk, according to Tallulah attorney Rufus Yeager. Acreage holders in the area include the American Liberty Company, John J. Cerniglia and Shelton, Midstates Oil Company, and R. G. LeTourneau.

J. J. Roberts drilling company of Shreveport has been awarded the drilling contract.

County office manager, I. E. Lucas said yesterday that his staff had been working at capacity in preparing purchase orders for seed and fertilizer.

Aim of the program primarily is to provide seed for winter cover crops with the government sharing approximately 50 per cent of the costs, but provision is made also for farmers wishing to obtain pasture seed, including small grains.

Singularly peas, vetches, crimson clover, oats and wheat seed are available to farmers whose fields and pastures were parched by prolonged drought conditions. Where small grains are planted under the program, they cannot be harvested for seed, but must be used for forage or silage purposes.

Where it is determined that fertilizer is needed to promote proper growth of the forage or cover crops, stipulations are that at least 40 pounds per acre must be applied. And cost sharing will not be granted to exceed 180 pounds of fertilizer per acre, Lucas said.

Yesterday, Lucas said, he had received no notification of the role his office will play in administering another drought measure announced earlier this week, providing for assistance in bringing in hay and feed grains for livestock in the drought stricken north Louisiana area, which includes Ouachita Parish.

In the absence of definite details on the latter program, some area agricultural officials have speculated that the assistance measure will be carried out as a joint operation of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and the Farmers Home Administration. Under the livestock feed program, the Department of Agriculture will pay up to $10 per ton on the cost of shipping in hay, and one-dollar per 100-pounds on the cost of feed-grains purchased.

Petit Jurors In Union Discharged

FARMERVILLE, Sept. 24 (Special)—Judge J. R. Dawkins has dismissed an October 4 petit jury for "lack of jury cases on the docket," and assessed $365 in fines during last week's district court session here.

Actions taken during the September session of criminal court included:

J. T. Chandler was sentenced to 60 days in jail and costs on a charge of drunk driving.

Melvin Davis was fined $50.00 and costs or 30 days in jail for reckless driving.

Troy Nolan was fined $65.00 and costs or 30 days in jail for killing squirrels out of season.

Sammie Lee and Ernestine Morris pleaded guilty to forgery and were sentenced to serve three years in the state penitentiary at Angola. On another count for the same offense, Sammie Lee Morris was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary, but the court ordered that this sentence run concurrently with that in the other case.

Billy Baird was sentenced to six months in jail on a charge of aggravated battery.

E. C. Heard was fined $150.00 and costs or six months in jail for illegally carrying a weapon.

Sidney Ford, Jr., was fined $50.00 and costs or 30 days in jail for reckless driving and causing property damage.

Thomas L. Walker was fined $50.00 and costs or 30 days in jail for reckless driving.

H. D. Traylor was sentenced to 60 days in jail for disturbing the peace.

Sales Executives Slate 2 Speakers

The Twin Cities Sales Executives Club Friday told of plans to observe National Salesman's Week October 18-25, and billed two top sales personalities for appearances here October 21.

Local chairmen Jack May and Jack Ansell, Jr., said Dr. C. L. Lapp, professor of marketing at Washington University, and William H. Gove, sales development manager for the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company, will be guest speakers during a sales clinic that week.

In addition to the sales rally, Salesmen's Week will be devoted to carrying before the high schools and colleges of northeast Louisiana, the city's civic organizations, etc. The basic idea of a week set aside to pay homage to the American salesman, the first such week ever presented in the United States.

Among the committees appointed for the events are: general committee, Jack May and Jack Ansell, Jr., co-chairmen and Garland Shell and G. D. Guilkey, plus all board members, publicity, Garland Shell, Civic Clubs, Jack Gaines and Walter Schubert, schools and colleges, E. C. Dancy, out-of-town solicitations, H. B. Cruthirds, J. E. King, Drew Davidson and E. H. Boone, arrangements, Graydon Guthrie and T. A. Pitt, ticket sales, Herman Chapman and printing, Sam Futrell.

Cotton New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 60 cents a bale higher to 30 cents lower today. Trading was fairly active and dominated by evening-up operations in nearby October. It was first notice day, with 151 October transferable notices issued at New York. This number of cotton tenders were somewhat larger than traders expected and influenced early liquidation on which dropped prices slightly under the previous close. When it developed that the notices were being stopped quite promptly by spot firms, the market rallied, with nearby October recovering more than $1 a bale from the early low.

Trade buying again accounted for much of the demand for futures. Mills were believed to be covering futures against previous purchases of spot cotton and also buying futures as a protection for later requirements. Both operations reflected expectations of higher prices in spot markets later on.

Union Protests Anti-Handbill City Ordinance

HATON ROUGE, Sept. 24 (AP)—A union attorney complained today that a city ordinance against distributing handbills was a violation of freedom of the press because it also could apply to newspaper deliveries.

Attorney Aubrey Hirsch made the statement after police stopped union men from distributing union posters outside a grocery store. The men were released after a conference with police chief Shirley Arrighi.

The ordinance, carrying penalties of up to $50 in fines or 30 days in jail, prohibits the throwing or placing of "any handbills, posters, dodgers or advertisements of any kind whatsoever" on public or private property.

In a strict application, Hirsch claimed, the phrase "advertising matter of any kind whatsoever" could apply to newspaper deliveries or even advertising circulars distributed through the mail.

He said he could ask prosecution of every violator if the ordinance was not amended by the city council.

The three kinds of dikes in Holland are: "Watchers," the big ones standing in the sea to fend off first assaults of waves; "sleepers," the second line of defense behind the "watchers;" and the "dreamers," the last-resort defenders of individual farms.

Stocks Continue Advance, Reach New High Ground

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Four new 25-year highs in a row was the record established today by a moderate advance in the stock market.

Oils and steels started a rally that spread to several other major divisions, and the market abandoned a mixed price pattern for a general move ahead.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 70 cents at $137.00, highest level for the average since Oct. 18, 1929.

Since last June the market has been establishing successive new 25-year high marks.

The industrial component of the average was up $1.00 at a new high of $188.40, railroads gained 70 cents and the utilities were up 20 cents.

The market consisted of 1,202 individual issues traded, 509 more than yesterday, with 509 advancing and 412 declining. Ninety-three stocks touched new highs for the year, and three dipped to new lows.

Volume came to 2,340,000 shares, the same as yesterday.

Bonds were mixed. U.S. government issues in the over-the-counter market were steady.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 — The market was generally a routine trading affair today and prices fluctuated in a moderate trading range. There were indications that hedging was heavier today than has been usual but offerings were still very well taken by the trade.

Activity in October provided the main feature. Tenders issued totaled 151 in New Orleans and were well taken. There were 33 regular notices in New Orleans.

The amount tendered was larger than general expectations and in early trading October was weak and traded as much as 40 points under December, but when it was evident that the notices would be stopped, October narrowed to around 25 points. A large quantity of October hedges was transferred to December at varying differences.

Clayton issued 47 of the New York notices, and it is rumored that a large number were also issued by a prominent southern shipping interest. It is reported that McFadden stopped at least 120 notices today.

Unfixed call sales increased 13,600 bales in the week ending September 17 amounting to 1,749,100 against 954,900 bales a year ago.

Of these, 750,000 bales were based on December. Unfixed call purchases declined 20,100 bales to 96,800 against 130,200 last year. Of these, 62,400 were in December.

Detailed weather map shows no rain over the entire cotton belt with temperatures moderate. Our Dallas office reports 12,459 bales classed so far. Picking is progressing rapidly but farmers are reluctant to sell and there is little activity.

Exports today were 3,310 bales; so far this season: 274,813 bales vs. 546,715 bales last year.

Byrd's Jackels Count Early To Rout Reds, 41-6

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 24
(Special) — The Byrd High Yellow Jackets unleashed their scoring power to count all their touchdowns in the first half as they turned back the Rebels of West Monroe 41-6 here tonight in a

Bob Ellis scored two Byrd touchdowns while Billy Sundrick, Richard Pybrun, Dick Gay, and "Shifty" White counted one each. Eason Wimberly added three extra points, and Byrd got two other points on a safety. Perkins scored

On a two-yard plunge. The Rebels started on what looked like even terms, gaining ground on a punt exchange, and then deciding to try the air to get the jump on the Jackets. But Joe DeFatta spiked the Reb's air attack with an interception that put Wee-

Monroe on the skids. DeFatta was hauled down on the Rebel 27. The Jackets used five plays to gain the four, and Bob Ellis crashed over for the first touchdown, Wimberly booting the conversion.

A few minutes later Richard Gay reeled off a good run to the Rebel

The second quarter, except for the last three minutes, was a Byrd. Billy Thompson, attempting to punt from the Rebel 11, was swarmed by the Jacket line, his kick was blocked, and Pyburn carried it over for a Byrd touchdown. Bundry recovered a West Monroe fumble on the Reb 17, and Gaud crashed through for the fourth touchdown; a bad pass from center sent Hal Willis chasing the ball back in his own end zone where he was tackled for a Byrd safety and two more points; the kick after the safety was downed on the Rebel 26 and Gay passed to Ellis for another touchdown; Don Webb carried to the Rebel one late in the quarter, and White plowed over Wimberly's third conversion gave the Jackets a 41-0 edge at the half.

But Hal Willis, Sonny Odom, and Parker rammed the ball to the Byrd two early in the final quarter to set up a touchdown plunge for Perkins.

The Rebels kept the ball in Byrd territory the rest of the night, but couldn't generate another scoring spark.

Ouachita, Neville, West Monroe Take Grid Losses

Lions Lose, 34-13, To Bates-Led El Dorado Wildcats

The El Dorado High School Wildcats, with unstopable halfback Bobby Bates scoring four touchdowns and a like number of extra points, piled up a 34-13 halftime lead and hung on to defeat the Ouachita Parish Lions at Brown Stadium last night, 34-13.

During the second half, with Bates warming the bench for all except the final three minutes, the inspired Lions chalked up five first downs to the Wildcats two, and scored a fourth period marker to completely dominate play, offensively and defensively.

The running of Jackie DuPriest was a highlight for the losers all evening, with Dickie Crowe's aerials hitting end John Tannehill and Ike McMullen for repeated gains.

DuPriest broke loose for 33 yards and Ouachita's first touchdown in the second quarter, after Dick Culpepper, a stalwart on defense for the Lions throughout, had recovered an El Dorado fumble.

In the fourth, Ouachita advanced from the El Dorado 34 to the four, with a Crowe to DuPriest pass gaining 24 yards in the drive, and a McMullen run around his own right end accounted for the final TD. His conversion kick was successful.

Bates had no hand in the initial Wildcat six-point drive, with a 15-yard pass from Charles Nolan to end Dick Mays eliminating a short march from the 27. Bates kicked the first of his four extra points, and the invaders had a 7-0 lead.

The remainder of the El Dorado scoring was all Bates, with the all-southern prep speeder breaking loose for runs of 63, 48, 14 and 25 yards, plus an 85-yard kickoff return for a touchdown that was nullified.

Glyn Russell and Tannehill were defensive stalwarts for the Lions, but there was no player on the field who could stop Bates once he burst into the open, usually on an off-tackle trap play through the left side of the Ouachita line.

Ferriday Punches Out 40-6 Victory In Bunkie Clash

BUNKIE, La., Sept. 24 (Special)—The Ferriday High Bulldogs, in a "season" Class A conference game, whipped the Bunkie Panthers, 40-6, here tonight with Guy Hill, Tommy Purvis, Clyde Webber, Max Fugler, and Donnie Day counting all Bulldog points.

Hill rambled for two touchdowns, one on a 32-yard run to open the scoring, and the other on a 26-yard dash in the third quarter. Purvis skirted end 10 yards for one and four yards for his second.

Webber raced six yards around end in the third quarter, and Day, a reserve, slipped through tackle for 40 yards and the last Bulldog touchdown. Fugler, a hard battling center, kicked four extra points.

Bunkie got its lone touchdown with ten seconds to go in the game when Fletcher fired a pass to Brown good for 23 yards and the TD.

Winnsboro 'Cats Claw Winnfield Bengals By 19-0

WINNFIELD, La., Sept. 24 (Special)—With Don Boutwell ripping off touchdowns runs of 60 and 52 yards, the Winnsboro Wildcats defeated the previously unbeaten Winnfield Tigers here tonight, 19-0.

Johnny Guice plunged over from one foot to chalk up the third Wildcat tally, and Whitey Riser backed the one successful conversion.

The first downs were almost even, with the winners moving the sticks 13 times, and the losers, 11. The difference offensively was speedster Boutwell.

Outstanding defensively for the Wildcats were Bill McGaw and Ralph Gill; and for Winnfield, Stanley Bass was outstanding defensively, with Jim Ross starring on offense.

Young Coaches Of Strong Teams Meeting 1st Tests

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
Two young head coaches, facing terrific assignments at the beginning of their new careers, stood out like islands of optimism in the customary sea of tears today as big time college football opened on all fronts.

Terence Patrick Brennan, the smiling 26-year-old who succeeded lachrymose Frank Leahy as Notre Dame's head coach, and Hugh Duffy Daugherty, trying to fill the ample shoes of Biggie Munn at Michigan State, refused to bow to convention and predict disastrous seasons for their teams.

They realized that disaster could strike in today's opening games, with Notre Dame meeting a mighty Texas team and Michigan State facing potent, upset-minded Iowa. But, confining themselves to general statements, Brennan has said he expects to have what Leahy used to call a "representative" — meaning winning — Notre Dame team and Daugherty is on record as believing Michigan State's successes will continue.

In fairness to other coaches it must be pointed out that the schedule for today — the second big day of the 1954 college season and the first to provide action in every sector — was the kind that could lead to tears. A dozen or so teams rated among the best in their sectors, faced the kind of opposition that could ruin a good season at the outset.

The top games were Texas-Notre Dame and Michigan State — Iowa, television's game of the week. Only a step or two behind them came Penn State — Illinois, Missouri-Purdue, Texas Christian — Oklahoma, Mississippi — Kentucky, Florida — Georgia Tech, Duke — Pennsylvania, South Carolina — Army, Kansas State — Wyoming, Michigan — Washington and Stanford-Oregon.

Other outstanding games included: East — Rutgers — Princeton (the 46th intercollegiate game between the schools that played the first game back in 1869), Columbia — Brown, Colgate — Cornell, Holy Cross — Dartmouth, Connecticut — Yale, Villanova — Syracuse, William and Mary-Navy.

South — North Carolina State-North Carolina, Wake Forest-Virginia Tech, Alabama — Louisiana State, Clemson — Georgia, Chattanooga — Auburn, Mississippi State-Tennessee, Baylor — Vanderbilt.

Midwest — Indiana — Ohio State, Nebraska — Minnesota, Iowa State-Northwestern, Marquette — Wisconsin, UCLA-Kansas, Boston College-Detroit, Utah State-Wichita.

Southwest — Tulsa — Arkansas, Oklahoma A&M-Texas A&M, West Texas-Texas Tech.

Far west — Colorado A&M-Colo- rado, Arizona — Utah, San Jose State — California, Idaho — Oregon State, College of Pacific-Washington State.

The non-conference contest is likely to be the toughest of the year for the Canines. Both teams won their opening last week as the Bulldogs rode past Louisiana College, 27-0, and Southern upset top-rated Alabama, 7-2.

Among the Tech boosters following the team to Hattiesburg for the tilt will be the Tech cheerleaders and the Tech Blue Jackets, girls pep squad composed of about 75 coeds. Many students and area fans are also expected to see the game.

The Techsters, who have managed to score only one touchdown against the Southerners the last three times the colleges have met on the gridiron, will be out to break the jinx Coach Thad Vann's boys seem to hold over the Bulldogs.

A look at the record shows that the Techmen have won only two games from the Magnolia States since 1937. The Canines pulled through a 7-0 game in 1937 and then in 1949 played a major upset by downing the Southerners 34-14 to win the Gulf States Conference championship.

Coach Joe Allett has not announced a starting lineup for the Southern game, but the Tech starters are likely to be about the same as the fellows who took the field last Saturday night against Louisiana College.

First Half Safety Proves Margin Of Rayville Triumph

RAYVILLE, La., Sept. 24 (Special)—The Rayville Hornets, entering the battle as only slight favorites over Neville of Monroe, squeezed out their second straight victory in 14 years over the Tigers here tonight, 15 to 13, in a battle just as tough as had been expected. It took the margin of a second quarter safety to furnish the battling Hornets with the triumph over the equally scrappy Bengals.

A bad pass from center that got away from Wayne Causey, who was trapped in the Neville end zone by Mayo, brought the Hornets the safety that was to decide the game.

Neville jumped ahead, however, in the third quarter when Billy King downed the kickoff on his 35. Jerry Aston and "Spec" Lewis carried to the 45, and then Lewis took a handoff from Elton Upshaw to ramble 55 yards for the Tiger touchdown. King kicked the point.

But Rayville roared back with the next kickoff. With Weaver and Keith Amos carrying to the Neville 25, Amos got away on a handoff to put the Hornets ahead again. Amos kicked the point, and the Hornets led 9-7 going into the final period.

Just before the last quarter started, Neville downed a Hornet kick on the Tiger 15. The Hornets stormed the Neville defenses, rocking the Tigers back as the fourth period started. Then another bad pass from center was recovered by Mayo of Rayville for what proved to be the clincher for Rayville. Neville blocked the kick for the point.

Neville scored its final touchdown following a spectacular play that saw Lewis elude three tacklers, drop the ball, pick it up, and ramble on to the Hornet 25. Ground plays carried to the five from where Mickey Yerger plunged over.

Neville rushed for 178 yards against 172 for Rayville and led in first downs, 7 to 5. The Tigers completed one of three passes for ten yards, and the Hornets completed one of two for four.

Score by quarters:

Miller, Thurman Steer Islanders Past Mangham

SICILY ISLAND, La., Sept. 24 (Special)—B. K. Miller and Fay Thurman sparked the scoring as the Sicily Island Tigers, rated top contenders for the district Class B title, punched out a 27-6 victory over the Mangham Dragons here tonight.

After a scoreless first quarter, Miller scored touchdowns on runs of 31 and 15 yards in the second period with Thurman converting each time.

Miller tallied his third touchdown in the third quarter from two yards out and Thurman again added the point. Thurman added the final TD from the 12 in the last period but failed on the conversion behind his own touchdown.

J. R. Mercer, classy Mangham end, counted the lone Mangham touchdown late in the game after taking a 50-yard pass from McKay.

Miller, Thurman, Mount, and Knobles were outstanding for the Tigers, while Ben McLain, Mercer, Hendricks, Sharbano and Martin were good for the Dragons.

Giardello Given Nod Over Jones In Listless Bout

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24 (AP)—Joey Giardello, 159, No. 1 ranking middleweight challenger, rallied in the late rounds to win a unanimous 10-round decision over a surprisingly hard fighting Bobby Jones, 159, Yonkers, N. Y., at the Arena tonight.

The 23-year-old Giardello fought a listless, unspectacular bout although he earned the nod from judge Max Daroff 7-2-1, judge Nate Lopinson 6-4 and referee Pete Pantele 6-4. The Associated Press carded Jones a 5-3-2 winner on the basis of his more aggressive and more consistent performance.

Giardello, who expects to meet 160-pound Champion Carl (Bobo) Olson in the near future, was bleeding from cuts both above and under his left eye through most of the lack-luster nationally televised scr. p.

MATCHED
NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Matchmaker Teddy Brenner said today he has signed featherweights Lulu Perez, Brooklyn, and Irish Bobby Woods, Spokane, Wash., for a television 10-round main event at Eastern Parkway Arena, Oct. 4.

Tigers Ruin Tribe's Bid For Record 111 Triumphs

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers stood off a ninth inning rally and halted the champion Cleveland Indians 6-4 today, preventing the Tribe from winning a record 111th victory of the season. Southpaw Ted Gray held Cleveland to two hits until the ninth, and Jim Delsing and Ray Boone homered for the winners. The Tribe rally began with a homer by George Strickland.

Northeast In Home Grid Opener With Texas A. And I.

Kickoff Scheduled At 8 O'clock With Invaders Favored

Northeast State's Indians open college football in Monroe tonight at 8 o'clock when they face a kickoff in Brown Stadium opposite the seasoned, highly touted Javelinas of Texas A. and I., out of Kingsville, Texas, hometown of the sprawling King Ranch empire. Showing very good spirits, despite last week's loss in Hammond, the Tribe face the Javelinas as definite underdogs, as the Hogs from Texas are regarded as one of the top squads in the tough Lone Star Conference.

Four injuries incurred during scrimmages this week, especially hitting coach Devone Payne's men at the end spots, leaves the Indians' starting lineup with four new faces. Practice injuries were incurred last week by starting guard Jimmy Berry, two key flankers of last week's game, Jarrell Busby and Phil Cobb, and to quarterback Danny Hoak, who played such a fine game in Hammond. The places on the opening eleven will be taken by Pete Collins and Dan Andrews at ends, Bob Windle at guard, and Pete Chambliss at quarterback.

Collins is a 165-pound freshman from Delhi whose inexperience is his greatest drawback. He is considered a fine Indian prospect at end. Another freshman Andrews weighs in at 187 pounds. Not to be confused with Bobby Andrews, a 220-pound tackle from Delhi, Dan Andrews is a Jena product. He saw lots of action in Hammond. Berry's opening guard slot will be filled by Windle, a blonde 220-pound junior from Reform, Ala., who turned in one of the best performances against Southeastern last week. At quarterback, Hoak's shoes will be filled at kickoff time by Chambliss, who started last week's game. Chambliss is a junior college transfer. Hoak's play last week, among the best turned in by an Indian, kept Chambliss from seeing as much action as he might otherwise have seen.

The remainder of the starting Northeast State eleven will be the same as for last week's game with the exception that Dalton Smith may start at guard in place of C. J. Melancon and Carey Pearson will replace B. H. Bradley at left halfback. Smith, a 190-pound junior from Natchez, Miss., plays virtually any position on the field, and is valuable to the Tribe coaches as an all-around fill-in. Basically a fullback, he may start at guard, and has been considered for a shift to end.

The kickoff lineup will be Collins and Andrews at ends; Sherrod McKoin, who received a hard head blow in the Southeastern game which kept him out of a major portion of it, but who is now recovered, and Captain Francis "Red" Yocom at tackles; Windle and either Melancon or Smith at the guards; Sammy Moore at center; Chambliss at quarterback; Pearson, who is a 165-pound freshman from Sicily Island, at left halfback; Tommy Leos at right halfback; and Howdy Nugent at fullback. The Indian line will average 215 pounds and the backfield 174 pounds.

The Javelinas come to Monroe seeking their second 1954 victory, having defeated Texas Lutheran last week 20-0. Texas A. I. is in its first year as a member of the Lone Star Conference, and is also under new head football coach Bill Steinkamp, formerly of Texas A. and M. They boast a very seasoned squad with first and second team depth in returning lettermen, squadmen, or transfers. The Javelinas boast an unusually large number of transfers from high name football teams, such as Texas A. and M., Rice, Texas Tech, and others. The Javelinas do not boast a big team, but make up for it with depth of experience.

THE 1954 INDIANS—This is the first edition of the Northeast State Indians under new head Coach Devone Payne. The 1954 Tribe is composed of (front) Bill Elliott, Alexandria; Sherrod McKoin, Jones; Charles Calhoun, Monroe; Jim Knox, no longer on the squad; Francis "Red" Yocom, Pascagoula, Miss.; C. J. ## Braves In Unique Double Victories Over Cards, Reds

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 24 (AP)—Veteran Warren Spahn notched his 21st triumph of the year today, downed seven hits as the Milwaukee Braves won, 4-2, in the second game of a unique "double header." The Braves beat Cincinnati, 4-3, in the replay of part of the final inning of their protested game of last Wednesday.

Ex-Cage Coach And Big Leaguer Passes

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 24 (AP)—John H. Wilson, head basketball coach at the Naval Academy from 1926 to 1946 and a pitcher with the Washington Senators for one season, died of a heart condition yesterday at Anne Arundel General Hospital.

Wilson, 64, retired as an associate professor of physical education at the Academy July 1, 1953. During his 20-year span as head basketball coach, his teams won 204 games and lost 94.

Cleveland's Grasso Eligible For Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Mickey Grasso, reserve catcher for the Cleveland Indians, was declared eligible for the coming World Series today by baseball commissioner Ford C. Frick.

Grasso, who suffered a broken leg early in the season, rejoined the Indians after the Sept. 1 series deadline but was declared eligible by Frick at the request of the club. Dave Hoskins, relief pitcher, was taken off the 25-man roster to make room for Grasso.

Bucky Harris Bows Out As Manager Of Senators

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Washington Senators announced today that Bucky Harris was resigned as manager, but Harris implied he was fired.

At any rate, Bucky is out of a job with the end of the season Sunday and while nobody would say so for the record, it was widely believed that Chuck Dressen will be his successor.

The sequence went like this: Clark Griffith, 84-year-old owner of the Senators and a long-time friend of Harris, told a news conference at Washington that he was announcing, at Harris request, that Bucky had resigned.

Harris, in Boston for the closing games with the Red Sox, denied to reporters that he had resigned and hinted that actually he was being booted out. He said: "You can believe what you want to. Maybe it's better that way. No manager ever resigns. I've been through it before. Actually, I hate to leave Washington. It's been my home for 30 years but that's one of the hazards of baseball. As of now, I don't know what I'm gonna do. I have no offers. I'll keep on managing the club until the final game is played.

Harris, one of baseball's "nice guys," is winding up his third hitch as manager of the Senators, bogged in the second division. All told, he has managed them for 18 years, dating back to 1924 when he led the club to a pennant.

Meantime, it was learned from reliable but unidentified sources that Dressen in all likelihood will be signed to a three-year contract at between $40,000 and $45,000 a year. Harris reportedly earned $30,000.

Griffith said he had planned to announce Harris' resignation Monday at the close of the season, but that Bucky had telephoned him last night to ask him to do so at once and thus free Harris to negotiate his own future.

In the give and take with reporters, Griffith said he would talk with "three or four potential successors in New York on Monday and that he hoped to be able to

Northeast In Home Grid Opener With Texas A. And I.

Kickoff Scheduled At 8 O'clock With Invaders Favored

Northeast State's Indians open college football in Monroe tonight at 8 o'clock when they face a kickoff in Brown Stadium opposite the seasoned, highly touted Javelinas of Texas A. and I., out of Kingsville, Texas, hometown of the sprawling King Ranch empire. Showing very good spirits, despite last week's loss in Hammond, the Tribe face the Javelinas as definite underdogs, as the Hogs from Texas are regarded as one of the top squads in the tough Lone Star Conference.

Four injuries incurred during scrimmage this week, especially hitting coach Devone Payne's men at the end spots, leaves the Indians' starting lineup with four new faces. Practice injuries were incurred last week by starting guard Jimmy Berry, two key flankers of last week's game, Jarrell Busby and Phil Cobb, and to quarterback Danny Hoak, who played such a fine game in Hammond. Their places on the opening eleven will be taken by Pete Collins and Dan Andrews at ends, Bob Windle at guard, and Pete Chambliss at quarterback.

Collins is a 165-pound freshman from Delhi whose inexperience is his greatest drawback. He is considered a fine Indian prospect at end. Another freshman Andrews weighs in at 187 pounds. Not to be confused with Bobby Andrews, a 220-pound tackle from Delhi, Dan Andrews is a Jena product. He saw lots of action in Hammond. Berry's opening guard slot will be filled by Windle, a blonde 220-pound junior from Reform, Ala., who turned in one of the best performances against Southeastern last week. At quarterback, Hoak's shoes will be filled at kickoff time by Chambliss, who started last week's game. Chambliss is a junior college transfer. Hoak's play last week, among the best turned in by an Indian, kept Chambliss from seeing as much action as he might otherwise have seen.

The remainder of the starting Northeast State eleven will be the same as for last week's game with the exception that Dalton Smith may start at guard in place of C. J. Melancon and Carey Pearson will replace B. H. Bradley at left halfback. Smith, a 190-pound junior from Natchez, Miss., plays virtually any position on the field, and is valuable to the Tribe coaches as an all-around fill-in. Basically a fullback, he may start at guard, and has been considered for a shift to end.

The kickoff lineup will be Collins and Andrews at ends; Sherrod McKoin, who received a hard head blow in the Southeastern game which kept him out of a major portion of it, but who is now recovered, and Captain Francis "Red" Yocom at tackles; Windle and either Melancon or Smith at the guards; Sammy Moore at center; Chambliss at quarterback; Pearson, who is a 165-pound freshman from Sicily Island, at left halfback; Tommy Leos at right halfback; and Howdy Nugent at fullback. The Indian line will average 215 pounds and the backfield 174 pounds.

The Javelinas come to Monroe seeking their second 1954 victory, having defeated Texas Lutheran last week 20-0. Texas A. I. is in its first year as a member of the Lone Star Conference, and is also under new head football coach Bill Steinke, formerly of Texas A. and M. They boast a very seasoned squad with first and second team depth in returning lettermen, squadmen, or transfers. The Javelinas boast an unusually large number of transfers from big name football teams, such as Texas A. and M., Rice, Texas Tech, and others. The Javelinas do not boast a big team, but make up for it with depth of experience.

Ex-Cage Coach And Big Leaguer Passes

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 24 (AP)—John H. Wilson, head basketball coach at the Naval Academy from 1926 to 1946 and a pitcher with the Washington Senators for one season, died of a heart condition yesterday at Anne Arundel General Hospital.

Wilson, 64, retired as an associate professor of physical education at the Academy July 1, 1953. During his 20-year span as head basketball coach, his teams won 204 games and lost 94.

Cleveland's Grasso Eligible For Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Mickey Grasso, reserve catcher for the Cleveland Indians, was declared eligible for the coming World Series today by baseball commissioner Ford C. Frick.

Grasso, who suffered a broken leg early in the season, rejoined the Indians after the Sept. 1 series deadline but was declared eligible by Frick at the request of the club. Dave Hoskins, relief pitcher, was taken off the 25-man roster to make room for Grasso.

The major periods begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods are of somewhat shorter duration.

Bucky Harris Bows Out As Manager Of Senators

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Washington Senators announced today that Bucky Harris has resigned as manager, but Harris implied he was fired.

At any rate, Bucky is out of a job with the end of the season Sunday and while nobody would say so for the record, it was widely believed that Chuck Dressen will be his successor.

The sequence went like this: Clark Griffith, 84-year-old owner of the Senators and a long-time friend of Harris, told a news conference at Washington that he was announcing, at Harris request, that Bucky had resigned.

Harris, in Boston for the closing games with the Red Sox, denied to reporters that he had resigned and hinted that actually he was being booted out. He said: "You can believe what you want to. Maybe it's better that way. No manager ever resigns. I've been through it before. Actually, I hate to leave Washington. It's been my home for 30 years but that's one of the hazards of baseball. As of announce his manager on that day. The names mentioned in the discussion were Dressen, Phil Rizzuto, shortstop for the New York Yankees, and Jimmy Dykes, recently ousted as manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

Now, I don't know what I'm gonna do. I have no offers. I'll keep on managing the club until the final game is played.

Meantime, it was learned from reliable but unidentified sources that Dressen in all likelihood will be signed to a three-year contract at between $40,000 and $45,000 a year. Harris reportedly earned $30,000.

Griffith said he had planned to announce Harris' resignation Monday at the close of the season, but that Bucky had telephoned him last night to ask him to do so at once and thus free Harris to negotiate his own future.

In the give and take with reporters, Griffith said he would talk with "three or four potential successors in New York on Monday and that he hoped to be able to

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Stay Away From This Bridge Bid
North's opening bid of one no-trump, in today's hand, is not recommended. The 5-4-2-2 distribution is better for suit than for no-trump play. Aside from the distribution however, North had the right sort of hand for this opening bid.
South's response of two diamonds was not invitational in any sense. With a good hand South would have bid three diamonds, or two or more no-trump; or he might have bid two clubs, the Stayman convention, asking North to show a major suit. South's actual bid of two diamonds merely showed a bad hand and a long diamond suit.
North wasn't particularly fond of diamonds, but he had sense enough to pass before matters got any worse. Neither side had a really good spot to play the hand.
West opened the Jack of hearts, and South won with the King. Deceiver then blundered by leading a spade back. West won the second spade with the Jack and promptly led a low trump. East took two high trumps and cashed the queen of spades. South struggled on for a while, but he eventually lost a total of three spades and three trumps, for a one-trick defeat.
It was correct for South to begin on the spades, but he should play the nine of spades from the dummy instead of putting up the ace. This ducks the trick to East, who cannot lead trumps without giving a trick to dummy's king. If East

CARD Sense
Q—With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been:
South West North East
1 Spade Pass 2 Clubs 2 Dmids.
You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-8-7-5, Hearts K-4-3, Diamonds A-Q-2, Clubs Q-9. What do you do?
A—Double. If your partner can overcall in the defense against diamonds you ought to massacre East. If your partner has unbalanced distribution and has to rebid in spades or clubs you will be able to go on to a game. The important thing is not to lose the chance to penalize a presumptuous bid.
TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-8-7-5-2, Hearts A-4-3, Diamonds A-Q-2, Clubs A-Q-J-3. What do you do?

Budget Director Praises Record Of Administration
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—UP—Budget Director Rowland Hughes said Friday the Eisenhower administration has done a "wonderful" job cutting federal spending but conceded it will be "some time" before it can balance the budget.
Hughes said one proof the administration has followed a "sound middle course" in its fiscal policies is the fact that critics are assailing the White House both for cutting the budget too deeply and for not cutting enough.
"I feel that we have a wonderful record of accomplishment," Hughes said. "We have adopted a sound fiscal policy that is showing results. It is going to take some time to obtain a completely balanced budget because of the situation we inherited."
He made the statement in a letter to chairman Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) of the Senate Appropriations committee. Bridges had told Hughes he was "somewhat disturbed by conflicting views on the administrations recent mid-year review of the current fiscal 1955 budget."
The review showed the anticipated deficit jumped from $2.9 billion on Jan. 1 to $4.7 billion. It also showed that while defense spending was running $2 billion less than expected, other spending—notably for farm price supports and housing—was about $1.5 billion higher than planned. Expected revenues were off by $3.4 billion.
Bridges said that led to two views—one that the administration has decided on "more non-defense spending" and the other that the Budget Bureau had sent federal agencies "one of the toughest letters in budget history" ordering deeper budget cuts next year.

Billy Graham To Open Crusade In Orleans, Oct. 3

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24. (Special) — Final arrangements are complete for the Greater New Orleans Crusade with Billy Graham which opens October 3. The evangelist, who has just completed a crusade in Nashville, Tenn., where he was heard in four weeks by more than 700,000 persons, will spend about ten days at his home in Montreat, N. C., before coming here next week. Preliminary activities under the direction of Willis G. Haymaker, a veteran member of the Billy Graham team, have been under way for several weeks. Included in these has been the recruiting of ushers from all cooperating churches in the area — 650 men have already volunteered for this service; more than 1,500 local church choir members have been enrolled in the mammoth crusade choir which will be directed by Cliff Barrows of the Billy Graham team, assisted by musicians Tedd Smith and Paul Mickelson. George Beverly Shea, soloist and RCA Victor recording artist, will be featured with the massive choir in the musical programs from night to night at the Stadium. Reports on file at the crusade headquarters show that more than 5,000 women attended the cottage prayer meetings held in hundreds of homes in the New Orleans area last week. Sales of donuts in the United States during 1953 amounted to 300 million dollars.

Mrs. F. B. Free New Home Agent

FARMERVILLE, Sept. 24 (Special) — Mrs. Freddie Boughton Free assumed her position as Assistant Home Demonstration here recently. Mrs. Free is from Mangham and graduated from Northeast Louisiana State College where she received her degree in Home Economics this past May. The new Assistant will spend most of her time working with the 4-H Clubs of the Parish. During the Civil War the Confederate states ran into many postal difficulties. Often postmasters used rubber stamps or handwritten signatures to denote paid-up postage.

Decrease Shown In Crude Oil Stocks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — The Bureau of Mines reported today stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum totaled 272,695,000 barrels on Sept. 18, a net decrease of 642,000 barrels for the week. Domestic crude decreased 330,000. Foreign crude decreased 312,000. Stocks, by grade or origin, and change from previous week (in thousands of barrels): Northern Louisiana 2,555 dec. 38; Gulf Coast Louisiana 13,448 inc. 515; Mississippi 3,106 inc. 30, and East Texas 11,125 inc. 258.
